David's Story Zoë Wicomb, 2015-04-25 A powerful post apartheid novel and winner of South Africa's M Net Literary Award hailed by J M Coetzee as a tremendous achievement South Africa 1991 Nelson Mandela is freed from prison the African National Congress is now legal and a new day dawns in Cape Town David Dirkse part of the underground world of activists spies and saboteurs in the liberation movement suddenly finds himself above ground With time to think after the unbanning of the movement David searches his family tree tracing his bloodline to the mixed race Coloured people of South Africa and their antecedents among the indigenous people and early colonial settlers But as David studies his roots he soon learns that he's on a hit list Now caught in a web of surveillance and betrayal he's forced to rethink his role in the struggle for nonracial democracy the loyalty of his comrades and his own conceptions of freedom Mesmerizing and multilayered Wicomb's award winning novel delivers a moving examination of the nature of political vision memory and truth A delicate powerful novel guided by the paradoxes of witnessing the certainties of national liberation and the uncertainties of ground level hybrid identity the mysteries of sexual exchange the austerity of political fiction Wicomb's book belongs on a shelf with books by Maryse Condé and Yvette Christians Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak author of A Critique of Postcolonial Reason

Breaking and Making Models Christoph F. E. Holzhey, Marietta Kesting, Claudia Peppel, 2025-05-20 Practically anything can be a model of or for something else What characterizes models is rather their specific reductive relationality which often promotes understanding but is always generative rather than merely representational The essays in Breaking and Making Models engage with the normative and performative qualities of models their aesthetic and political dimensions and their world making potentials Bringing such perspectives into a broad interdisciplinary dialogue this book explores ways to work creatively with models

Sports in African History, Politics, and Identity Formation Michael J. Gennaro, Saheed Aderinto, 2019-04-01 Sports in African History Politics and Identity Formation explores how sports can render a key to unlocking complex social political economic and gendered relations across Africa and the Diaspora Sports hold significant value and have an intricate relationship with many components of African societies throughout history For many Africans sports are a way of life a site of cultural heroes a way out of poverty and social mobility and a site for leisurely play This book focuses on the many ways in which sports uniquely reflect changing cultural trends at diverse levels of African societies The contributors detail various sports such as football cricket ping pong and rugby across the continent to show how sports lay at the heart of the discourse of nationalism self fashioning gender and masculinity leisure and play challenges of underdevelopment and ideas of progress Bringing together the newest and most innovative scholarship on African sports

this book will be of interest to students and scholars of contemporary Africa African history culture and society and sports history and politics
