At an early age I recall hearing many stories told by my elders about the tiny town of Blue Springs and the remarkable people who lived in and around it I used many of these tales as bedtime stories for my children and grandchildren Many people urged me to record these stories in writing Additionally I noticed at an early age how highly esteemed and respected my father was in the community because of his total dedication to his medical practice and how he conducted it I have also wanted to leave some sort of written tribute for my children and grandchildren about what remarkable people their ancestors were especially my parents and grandparents Finally for a small boy the tiny little town of Blue Springs was a natural paradise in which to grow up Springs swamps a river fields and forests abounded I wanted to tell my children and grandchildren what it was like I also want them to know appreciate and attempt to add to their genealogy These are the reasons for this book edited collection No Tea No Shade brings together nineteen essays from the next generation of scholars activists and community leaders doing work on black gender and sexuality. Building on the foundations laid by the earlier volume this collection's contributors speak new truths about the black queer experience while exemplifying the codification of black queer studies as a rigorous and important field of study. Topics include raw sex, pornography, the carceral state, gentrification, gender nonconformity, social media, the relationship between black feminist studies and black trans studies, the black queer experience throughout the black diaspora, and queer music, film, dance, and theater. The contributors both disprove naysayers who believed black queer studies to be a passing trend and respond to critiques of the field's early U.S. bias. Deferring to the past while pointing to the future, No Tea No Shade pushes black queer studies in new and exciting directions. Contributors: Jafari S. Allen, Marlon M. Fantasy Promised Sue Langford, 2015-08-11

In the final installment of the Fantasy Series They're face to face with the hardest decision ever. Brad Green has the choice history or a future that he doesn't want to live without. He thinks he made the right decision but what happens if the decision isn't his? He stuns every friend he's ever had with the decision he makes but does it mean losing what he has? Savannah made a hard decision worse. She has her own bus, her own life and a daughter to take care of. Whether she ends up being a single mom or not, she's determined to get on with her life. Finally faced with the hardest decision ever, she's face to face with her future. A future that he promised so long ago. Question is, is the fantasy over? She's determined to be happy one way or another, even if that means letting the fantasy he promised just disappear. Will he choose the life he's built or history? Will she forgive and forget or is the romance over? A fantasy promised will remain but who is the promise being made to? The final chapter to a romance is nearing. Will the fantasy win?
