Migration Globalisation And Human Security:

Migration, Globalisation and Human Security David T. Graham,Nana K. Poku,2005-08-04 Migration Globalisation and Human Security looks at a range of security and human security issues related to the displacement of civilian populations and shows how the tenuous existence of migrants can lead to a myriad of human security threats Providing major theoretical analyses of recent migration trends and in depth case studies this book shows that a redefinition of the notion of human security is now needed

Human Security in South Asia P. R. Chari,Sonika Gupta,2003 The word security has a military connotation and refers to the activities involved in protecting or defending a country in which the State has a central role This book argues that the State provides as well as threatens security and that by broadening the concept of security to include both military and non military threats such as those related to ecological social economic and political causes a system of checks and balances can be introduced to regulate the State

Human Security Benny Teh Cheng Guan,2012-01-02 Human security is becoming increasingly pronounced in recent years due to changes in the security landscape of world politics Yet inter state relations have continued to dominate security concerns in East Asia This has unfortunately eluded the broader understanding of issues and challenges facing the peoples of East Asia Home to nations with rapid economic growth and development East Asia is at the core of what some individuals have termed as the coming Asian Century Years of economic liberalization and exposure to globalization have permitted the region to achieve high levels of interconnectedness from within and without in unprecedented ways This has certainly reduced state control and opened up spaces for cross border human activities While economic wealth have increased substantially over the years it has also brought about bigger income disparities unsustainable safety nets and a surge in social problems from health issues to migratory concerns that threaten the safety and well being of individuals Human Security Securing East Asia's Future timely examines the fundamental issues causing human insecurities and evaluates the extent of which human security plays a role at the state and regional levels Covering the different areas of threats to humans and applying case study materials this volume provides an intellectual mix of perspectives that captures the relationship between people state and region This book will be of interest to those studying traditional and non traditional security threats Asian human development and critical policy analysis

Protecting Human Security in a Post 9/11 World Giorgio Shani,Makoto Sato,Mustapha Kamal Pasha,2007-11-09 This book offers both a critical discourse and regional perspectives on the major challenges for promoting human security in a post 9 11 world

Mapping Study on International Migration Kristof Tamas,2004 Reviews a selection of current research and activities on the causes and effects of international migration and international cooperation on migration issues Attempts to identify conditions where the maximum benefits of migration to both sending and receiving countries can be achieved while minimizing the risks for migrants and communities affected by migration Looks at the development of a policy oriented research agenda

International Migration and International Security Valeria

Bello,2017-04-21 Through an interdisciplinary analytic lens that combines debates emerged in the fields of international relations political science and sociology Valeria Bello reveals how transnational dynamics have increased extremism prejudiced attitudes towards others and international xenophobia Bello begins her analysis by tracing similarities between Europe today and Europe before World War II to explain why prejudice is a global security threat and why it is arising as a current global concern within International Organizations In such a light Bello shows how changes in the International System and the attack on the UN practice of Intercultural Dialogue have become sources of new perceived threats and the reasons for which new exclusionary patterns have arisen She argues that both those outcomes have been exacerbating the perceived clash of civilizations and the root causes of different fashions of extremisms Bello concludes by portraying alternative ways to deal with these instabilities through a partnership of the different stakeholders involved including both state and non state actors at global regional national and local levels International Migration and International Security provides a unique crosscutting angle from which to analyze the current socio political crisis connected to the theme of international migration that the world is currently witnessing Bello expertly shows that different paths for the world are possible and suggest ways to further promote Global Human Security through local national regional and global practices of Intercultural Dialogue

Economic Globalization, Institutional Change and Human Security Dharam P. Ghai,United Nations Research Institute for Social Development,1997

Transnational Migration and Human Security Thanh-Dam

Truong,Des Gasper,2011-06-07 The volume places the migration development security nexus in the field of transnational studies Rather than treating these three categories as self evident the essays excavate aspects of power and privilege built into their governing frameworks and conflicting rationales apparent in practices of control Bringing together diverse experiences and case studies the volume highlights the problematic nature of maintaining distinct and disconnected frameworks of governance It argues for a new approach that demonstrates the significance and usefulness of comparative ethics in conceptualising migration from a human centered and gendered perspective in order to address the multi faceted and multi dimensional nature and meanings of security

Migration, Refugees and Human Security in the Mediterranean and MENA Marion Boulby,Kenneth Christie,2018-03-15 This book focuses on the Mediterranean MENA migration crisis and explores the human security implications for migrants and refugees in this troubled region Since the Arab uprisings of 2010 2011 the Middle East and North Africa region has experienced major political transformations and called into question the legitimacy of states in the region Displaced populations continue to suffer due to the major conflicts in Syria Iraq and elsewhere causing fragmentation and dis integration of communities Contributors to this volume analyze how and why this crisis differs significantly from previous migration refugee flows in the region explain the historical and political antecedents of this crisis which have played a part in its shaping and explore the relationship between human security and the protection of vulnerable individuals and groups Security and Development in Southern Africa Nana Poku,2001-04-30 With the end of white dominated South Africa many observers have argued for a positive transformation of the whole of Southern Africa based upon market integration and increased cooperation among the states of the region Poku and the contributors to this collection re examine this optimistic scenerio and they point to the problems of translating good intentions into actual policies In reality the economic imbalance between South Africa and its neighbors poses severe problems for the region Far from finding a stronger ally in regional reconstruction and development the countries in the region are finding that for many in South Africa they simply do not matter that much The analysis points to greater polarization which may imply greater marginalization of the poorer countries in the region Moreover a major widening of the gap between the richer South Africa and some or all of the weaker economies may lead to increased tensions and breakdown of regional relations even to a situation detrimental to economic development in the region A provocative analysis by some of the leading politico economic thinkers of the region the volume will be of great use to scholars researchers and policy makers involved with Southern African development

Non-traditional Security in the Asia-Pacific Ralf Emmers,2004 This work studies the non traditional security agenda in the Asia Pacific focusing particularly on the dynamics of securitisation It questions why and how some issues are securitised and examines the policy outcomes that derive from securitising these concerns The conceptual discussion draws upon but also modifies the theory of securitisation and desecuritisation originally advanced by the Copenhagen School The empirical study analyses Thailand s securitisation of drug trafficking Singapore s combined securitisation of sea piracy and maritime terrorism and Australia s securitisation of people smuggling These various issues can be defined as forms of transnational crime The case studies consider the rhetoric used by the three countries concerned as well as their policy responses at the unilateral bilateral and multilateral level READERSHIP Academics policy makers and administrators and those interested in the study of regionalism and regional security Security and Empowerment Shahzada M. Akram,Khandaker Rezwanul Karim,2005 Study with reference to the three districts of Munshiganj Tangail and No kh li in Bangladesh The International Migration Review ,2000 Quarterly journal on sociodemographic economic historical political and legislative aspects of human migration and refugee movements Each issue of IMR presents original articles research and documentation notes reports on key legislative developments both national and international an extensive bibliography and abstracting service the International Sociological Association s International Newsletter on Migration plus a scholarly review of new books in the field IMR also offers annual special issues Planned by the Editorial Board in conjunction with guest editors each of these issues provides an extensive and comprehensive analysis of a single topic of emerging relevance in migration studies
