Parchment Of Leaves A Novel:

A Parchment of Leaves Silas House, 2002-08-16 When Silas House made his debut with Clay's Quilt last year it touched a nerve not just in his home state where it quickly became a bestseller but all across the country. Glowing reviews from USA Today, House is letter perfect with his first novel to the Philadelphia Inquirer. Compelling House knows what's important and reminds us of the value of family and home, love and loyalty to the Mobile Register. Poetic, haunting and everywhere in between, established him as a writer to watch. His second novel won't disappoint. Set in 1917, A PARCHMENT OF LEAVES tells the story of Vine, a beautiful Cherokee woman who marries a white man, forsaking her family and their homeland to settle in with his people and make a home in the heart of the mountains. Her mother has strange forebodings that all will not go well, and she's right. Vine is viewed as an outsider, treated with contempt by other townspeople. Add to that her brother-in-law's fixation on her, and Vine's life becomes more complicated than she could have ever imagined. In the violent turn of events that ensues, she learns what it means to forgive others and most important, how to forgive herself. As haunting as an old-time ballad, A PARCHMENT OF LEAVES is filled with the imagery, dialect, music, and thrumming life of the Kentucky mountains. For Silas House, whose great grandmother was Cherokee, this novel is also a tribute to the family whose spirit formed him.

Parchment of Leaves Silas House, 2003-08-01 Religious Remembrancer, 1918 Re-using Manuscripts in Late Medieval England Hannah Ryley, 2022 A fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England, examining the ways in which people sustained older books, exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted, mended, protected, marked, gifted, and shared. During the long fifteenth century, here 1375-1530, the demand for books in England flourished. The fast-developing book trade produced them in great quantity. Fragments of manuscripts were often repurposed as flyleaves, and other components such as palimpsests, and alongside the creation of new books, medieval manuscripts were also repaired, recycled, and re-used. This monograph examines the ways in which people sustained older books, exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted, mended, protected, marked, gifted, and shared. Drawing on the codicological evidence gathered from an extensive survey of extant manuscript collections, in conjunction with historical accounts, recipes, and literary texts, it presents detailed case studies exploring parchment production and recycling, the re-use of margins, and second-hand exchanges of books. Its engagement with the evidence in and inscribed on surviving books enables a fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England, looking at how people went about re-using books and arguing that over the course of this period, books were made, used, and re-used in a myriad of sustainable ways.
