authoritative essays and appended annotated bibliographies by experts in various aspects of early childhood. The topics include pregnancy, birth, and the first year of life; child development; the role of the family; parenting; the interrelationships of parents and children; health; nutrition, including feeding practices; children's play; child care and its settings and options; the special needs of a child; and various facets of childhood education literature: multicultural education; nonsexist education; and the influences produced by viewing films and television. Within each topic, brief essays by different professionals cover different aspects of the topic; the bibliography for the topic lists books and government publications about the subject. An extensive listing of pertinent newsletters, US organizations, information clearinghouses, and periodicals relative to childhood education also is included.

Developing Integrated Programs Marcia Cain Coling, 1991 This book presents an amalgam of early intervention ideas from the fields of education, occupational therapy, and physical therapy for children with developmental delays. An introductory chapter describes the approach's three theoretical bases: neurodevelopmental treatment (NDT), sensory integration, and Piagetian theory. Chapter 1 considers assessment, including determination of eligibility, screening, diagnosis, evaluation for program planning, and program evaluation. NDT program components are reviewed in Chapter 2, including positioning, handling, and facilitating movement. Chapter 3 considers sensory integration program components, including tactile, vestibular, and proprioceptive activities. Piagetian program components, such as play and cognitive content, are described in the fourth chapter, covering object permanence, means-ends, and cause-effect; gestural and vocal imitation; and spatial relationships. Chapter 5 presents speech language program components, including feeding, speech production, auditory responsiveness, communication, and augmentative communication. Chapter 6 offers guidelines for integrating program components with sections on the team model, team members, services delivered by the transdisciplinary team, in-service programs incorporating therapy in the classroom, and development of individualized programs. Four appendixes list assessment and instructional resources. A glossary and a bibliography of 120 items are also included.
