RELATIONSHIP OF HIGH & LOW ACHIEVING STUDENTS Dr. Deepa David Sevak, The Parent-Child Connection Wm. Lee Carter, 1989 Connecting With Our Children Roberta M. Gilbert, 2008-04-21 Parents want a special relationship with their children Parents care They want to guide their children through the rough spots in life and help them make the right decisions Research shows that a special parental connection is extremely important in safeguarding children against dangers such as substance abuse sexual promiscuity criminal activity and suicide This is more important than ever before in today's troubled world. But what does making this connection mean? Based on Bowen family systems theory, Connecting with Our Children shows parents how to build the connection found in better relationships. Now parents have a new way to think about and respond to family problems. The author examines common concerns such as How substance abuse can repeat through generations. Why fusions between family members drive conflict. How family anxiety can erupt into violence. Whether stepfamilies can create a new family unit. What roles faith and humor play in a family. How effective are special contributions made by connections with grandparents. Numerous practical examples and stories illustrate familiar situations and concerns so that parents can learn how to deal with the often confusing situations surrounding their children as well as those within their own lives. With a different perspective, parents can learn to overcome these difficulties, creating a stronger family and a happier, more open relationship between parent and child.

Nurturing Healthy Attachment Barbara Sorrels, Cathy

Chalmers, Cathy Chalmers M A, 2018-05-04. Kudos to Barbara and Cathy for showing us how to keep the heart connection with our child strong and healthy regardless of their age. Dr. Tim Kimmel, Author of Grace Based Parenting. Once you understand attachment parenting, it makes a lot more sense. The basics of child development and the importance of attachment will equip you to create meaningful and secure relationships that last a lifetime. You'll discover What is healthy attachment? How to nurture connection in various ages and stages. The crucial differences between punishment and discipline. How child development research aligns with biblical truth. Attachment doesn't create a clingy and codependent child; it equips kids to have healthy relationships throughout their lifetime. Dr. Barbara Sorrels is a mom and grandmother. Her experience as a parent, teacher, early childhood administrator, children's pastor, university professor, and consultant brings a unique perspective to her speaking and writing. Cathy Chalmers M A began her education in the field of psychology. She has worked in psychiatric residential treatment, a developmental pediatric clinic, and in private practice. Cathy and her husband are proud parents of two adult daughters. Through research, heart, and wisdom, this book shows why attachment is so important to raising emotionally secure and spiritually healthy kids. John Finch, bestselling author of The Father Effect. What a gift of practical advice supported by years of research and application. Full of hope and promise for every parent. Deniese Dillon, Co-founder and Executive Director Emeritus of the adoption agency Dillon International Inc.

Indirect Parenting Interventions, Neuroscience and the Parent-Child Relationship Thomas W.

Roberts,2024-10-21 This volume explores indirect parenting behavior that changes the structure of the parent child relationship examining the ecological dimension of parenting in addition to nurturance and control Drawing on neuroscientific research in parenting it provides a model for how children learn implicitly and how parents can relate to children through indirect means Roberts argues that first order parenting techniques teaching specific behaviors to reduce unwanted child behaviors are overused He examines and offers guidance on how indirect interventions that place emphasis on the interactional components of the parent child relationship such as modelling storytelling reframing humor and paradox can support parents and children in developing positive relationships Addresses the latest brain research and its application to parent child interactions Introduces the student to aspects of the parent child relationship that are not covered in most courses Useful to clinicians who work directly with parents Offers a perspective on parenting that differs from most parenting models Facilitates awareness of how unconscious and nonverbal communication affects parenting Serves to deepen the relationship with the child and curb unwanted behavior Indirect Parenting Interventions Neuroscience and the Parent Child Relationship will be thought provoking reading for students and scholars of parenting and family systems as well as clinicians who work directly with parents giving them a broader perspective in dealing with parent child interactions

Connection Parenting Pam Leo,2005    Counterpredators Bill Kortenbach,2012-12-14 Counterpredators is a modern solution to an ancient problem Parents face the overwhelming responsibility of training their children to navigate the threat environment and safely molding them into powerful self aware authentic adults At the same time many parents do not themselves possess the necessary skill set and when their children sense this they begin to adopt questionable heroes and role models In the natural world animal parents train their young by repeatedly exposing them to hazard while demonstrating efficient risk management yet our society teaches us to do the exact opposite Shelter and protect our children from whatever might harm them As a result many children are profoundly unprepared to deal with real threat Since both animal and human young are equally vulnerable it is easy to spot the weak link The unprepared human parent To solve this problem parents need to assume a powerful new identity something unique and elemental that rivets the attention and imagination of their children They must become counterpredators individuals who have the skill and the will to engage and overcome human threats Counterpredators is the story of how to achieve this transition using cutting edge methodology Survival Response Conditioning the re activation of dormant subconscious survival skills combined with high pressure scenario based experiences produces rapid permanent change and provides the launch pad for an unbreakable bond of love and respect between parents and children
