The Cambridge Companion to Victorian Poetry Joseph Bristow, 2000-10-26 This Companion to Victorian Poetry provides an introduction to many of the pressing issues that absorbed the attention of poets from the 1830s to the 1890s. It introduces readers to a range of topics including historicism, patriotism, prosody, and religious belief. The thirteen specially commissioned chapters offer insights into the works of well-known figures such as Matthew Arnold, Robert Browning, and Alfred Tennyson, and the writings of women poets like Michael Field, Amy Levy, and Augusta Webster, whose contribution to Victorian culture has in more recent years been acknowledged by modern scholars. Revealing the breadth of the Victorians' experiments with poetic form, this Companion also discloses the extent to which their writings addressed the prominent intellectual and social questions of the day. The volume, which will be of interest to scholars and students alike, features a detailed chronology of the Victorian period and a comprehensive guide to further reading.

Ritsos in Parentheses Yannis Ritsos, 2026-03-24 Winner of the Harold Morton Landon Translation Award, Academy of American Poets. A bilingual edition of three major poetry collections by one of the most important Greek poets of the twentieth century. One of the most prolific and popular of modern Greek poets, Yannis Ritsos follows such eminent predecessors as Cavafy, Sikelianos, and Seferis in the dramatic and symbolic expression of a tragic sense of life. The three volumes of Ritsos's poetry translated here—Parentheses (1946–47), Parentheses (1950–61), and The Distant (1961)—document a three-decade poetic journey that reveals the evolution of the poet's sensibility. This bilingual edition also features an insightful introduction from translator Edmund Keeley, whom Paul Muldoon has called the gold standard in translators of Greek poetry.

Parentheses Bernell MacDonald, 1974 (Women in Parentheses)

Catherine Arra, 2019-08-16 Women in Parentheses is a delightful, important, sexy, smart, and sassy collection of poems about women caught between the concrete and abstract, the real and imagined, confines of parentheses, sometimes cultural, psychological, sexual, or of their own making. Poet Catherine Arra possesses a confident woman's voice full of grace and generosity, strength and vulnerability. The women that inhabit these poems step out and paint the town with red lipstick, even though the book doesn't dwell on the physical but sticks to substance. There is a sense of inclusiveness and universality for all women, portraits from every walk of life. The poet uses nostalgia, childhood, to great effect, with references to Barbie, Ken, Cinderella, Once Upon a Time, princes, and she seems to do this effortlessly, without being overly sentimental or sacrificing the adult voice. From girls to wise older women, Arra looks at the ways in which women are squeezed into the circumstances and expectations of gender, how some live life there while others dig escape tunnels or kick down walls.
