Studies in Character Building Ella Ervillla Kellogg,1905 Parenting with a Story Paul Smith,2014-11-12 Play nice Be kind Don t do that Every day it seems half our conversations with young people is made up of commands dealing with character and niceties all issues that need to be addressed and not ignored But how is it working Do you find yourself back at square one the next day with a child acting as though they had no idea they shouldn t be lying In Parenting with a Story author Paul Smith one of the world s leading experts in organizational storytelling shows that when stories are used to illustrate to children how choices and consequences play out in the real world with real people the impact will be far more profound than the relentless commands that are forgotten or ignored as soon as the parent turns away This collection of 101 narratives from people around the world and from all walks of life includes lessons that illuminate the power of character integrity curiosity creativity grit kindness patience gratitude and other essential characteristics every parent should be trying to instill in their children Sometimes heart wrenching sometimes funny always compelling these stories impart wisdom and help steer choices about Resisting peer pressure Remaining open minded Being humble Making courageous decisions Standing by their word Bouncing back from failure Showing compassion Picking friends wisely And more Throughout all of history stories have been used to help shape who we are and who we aspire to come But effective storytelling doesn t have to be reserved for teachers writers and preachers As a parent learn how to share stories discuss them with your child and watch your child grow into the adult every parent would be proud of Teach Your Children Well Madelyn Swift,Victoria Mathies,2001 Parenting to Build Character in Your Teen Michael S. Josephson,Val J. Peter,Tom Dowd,Tom P. Dowd,2001 Building character in teens is a matter of teaching them to know the good love the good and do the good In this book two of America s foremost youth serving organizations Girls and Boys Town and the Character Counts Coalition team up to help parents accomplish this vital task Learn how to use proven Common Sense Parenting techniques to teach enforce advocate and model the Six Pillars of Character trustworthiness respect responsibility fairness caring and citizenship Included is a helpful discussion of a seven step process that teens can use to make effective and ethical decisions decisions that uphold the Six Pillars and also help teens accomplish their goals The book offers real life ethical dilemmas and shows how parents can guide their teens when confronted by situations such as the pressure to have sex being tempted to shoplift or cheat or handling a bully s threats Character Building David Isaacs,2001 In this book author David Isaacs an educationalist and parent offers ideas and suggestions on how parents and teachers can help children s all round development The emphasis is on character building approached from the viewpoint of moral habits Professor Isaacs takes twenty four virtues and discusses how the child at different ages can be encouraged to be obedient industrious sincere prudent generous optimistic sociable and so on There is no book on child development quite like this How To Influence Your Kids For Good Sara Dimerman,2015-08-25 If you re like most parents you worry about the future You re afraid that your disrespectful twelve year old will become a juvenile delinquent or that your defiant eight year old will become even more difficult to manage as a teenager You may also worry about how to remain the most influential person in your child s life and sometimes about whether or not you have lost your influence altogether You work hard at being a positive role model and being good in so many ways but wonder if what you re doing and saying is making a difference In How to Influence Your Kids For Good Sara Dimerman shares her practical and effective step by step plan that will help you bring your family together improve communication and unlock the very best in your children and yourself Sara Dimerman makes a convincing case that developing character in our children is one of a parent s most important tasks In How to Influence Your Kids for Good she provides an innovative step by step template for families who want to explore the values they cherish and deepen their commitment to living by those values Today s Parent Fun Projects for Hands-on Character Building Rick Boyer (columnist.),Marilyn Boyer,1996-03-01 As the parents of fourteen children Rick Marilyn Boyer have plenty of experience experience in parenting character building that is In fun projects for hands on character building they show you ideas programs and projects that build character traits like obedrency self acceptance a forgiving spirit meekness an inner hunger for righteasness and a strong testimony traits that every one of us would like our children to exhibit The projects are fun to do and will create many precious memories that will last a lifetime as you work learn and play together Studies in Character Building; a Book for Parents Ella Ervillla Eaton Kellogg,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1905 edition Excerpt Dealing with Some Com mon faults Who can understand his errorsf Cleanse thou me from secret faults LL children have faults All parents have a duty to aid them in overcoming these defects The child s fault in many instances is the outworking of a natural tendency as selfishness obstinacy etc Others are acquired habits as idleness and disrespect These latter may be styled preventable faults and it largely remains with the wise and careful parent as to how few of such shall be incorporated into the child s character The correction of established faults is one of the most difficult of tasks There is no patent way of accomplishing the work Each child must be dealt with upon an individual basis

according to his own special needs and proclivities This necessitates a thorough understanding of the child and requires of parents much thought and effort coupled with Divine aid It necessitates making a continual search for right ways and best ways studying to fathom motives and causes The fault must be analyzed and the treatment directed as the skilled physician directs his treatment of a bodily ailment toward the rooting out of the cause Not infrequently the parent may be surprised to find the cause at his own door so to speak Children are apt imitators Both the good and the evil they observe in the conduct of those around them are readily reflected in their own behavior so that with the small child nearly every fault is at first a borrowed one A single occurrence may not greatly affect the child unless it be something of such an unusual character as to merit his special attention and because of this becomes emphasized upon his mind but the constant recurrence in his presence of a good thing or of an evil thing

Great Kids Workbook for Parents of Teenagers Henry Cloud, John Townsend, 2000 This workbook helps parents apply Raising Great Kids savvy real world principles to help them better understand teenagers Families can be strengthened as parents learn to build biblical character in their teens helping them gain confidence and competence in their relationships responsibility and follow through self control perseverance and other key areas Narcissistic Parenting in an Insecure World Harry Hendrick, 2016-07-06 In this provocative history of parenting Harry Hendrick analyses the social and economic reasons behind parenting trends He shows how broader social changes including neoliberalism feminism the collapse of the social democratic ideal and the new behaviourism have led to the rise of the anxious and narcissistic parent The book charts the shift from the liberal and progressive parenting styles of the 1940s 70s to the more behavioural punitive and managerial methods of childrearing today made popular by experts such as Gina Ford and Supernanny Jo Frost and by New Labour s parent education programmes This trend Hendrick argues is symptomatic of the sour mean spirited and vindictive social norms found throughout society today It undermines the better instincts of parents and therefore damages parent child relations Instead he proposes parents should focus on understanding and helping their children as they work at growing up
