

PROJECT

A collage of various project-related documents and sticky notes is arranged on a dark wooden surface. The central focus is a large, light blue rectangular card with the word "PROJECT" in a bold, dark blue, sans-serif font. Surrounding this central card are numerous other items: several white sheets of paper with text, diagrams, and charts; colorful sticky notes in shades of yellow, orange, and blue; and a black card with the word "IDEA" in white. One of the white cards features a world map, another shows a Venn diagram with four overlapping circles in red, blue, green, and yellow, and a third has the words "CREATIVE MOVEMENT" in red. There are also some abstract diagrams and charts scattered throughout the collage.

Participation In Project Preparation:

Participation in Project Preparation Trond Vedeld, 2001-01-01 This study analyzes the extent to which the India program is meeting the World Bank's objective of mainstreaming participatory approaches in project preparation and design. It includes ten projects in which participation was an overall project objective. These projects provided good practice lessons from a variety of social and natural resource management sectors.

Municipalities and Community Participation Janelle Plummer, 2013-12-16 Among all the literature on participation, this is the first book I know that focuses on municipal authorities. It also has particular importance both for higher levels of government at national or provincial state level and for international agencies. Firstly, it is a reminder of the importance of well-functioning municipal governments for reducing poverty. Secondly, it is a rich source of case studies and analysis about how municipal authorities can incorporate one central component of good governance: a permanent participatory engagement with their citizens. From the Foreword by David Satterthwaite, Director, Human Settlements Programme, International Institute for Environment and Development. Increasingly, governments and donors are advocating the participation of poor communities in the delivery of urban services and infrastructure. Yet local authorities responsible for implementing participatory policies often do not have the skills, organisations, or resources needed, or an adequate idea of the capacity required. This sourcebook provides invaluable practical guidance for municipal officials and others working in urban development and poverty reduction on the range of issues to be addressed in planning and managing cities with community participation. It explains the key elements of participation, identifies common constraints and opportunities, describes the vehicles for moving participation forward, and outlines the capacity building needed for a municipality to achieve participatory goals.
