Doris Lessing s love affair with cats began at a young age when she became intrigued with the semi feral creatures on the African farm where she grew up Her fascination remained undiminished by the handsome domesticated creatures who shared her flats and her life in London and grew into real love with El Magnifico the awkwardly lovable cat who in his later years suffered the great indignity of becoming a three legged beast Consisting of Doris Lessing s collection of stories Particularly Cats and Rufus and the poignant memoir The Old Age of El Magnifico this book evokes a sense of feline existence look at cats in history literature and art Alfred and Emily Doris Lessing,2009-10-13 I think my father s rage at the trenches took me over when I was very young and has never left me Do children feel their parents emotions Yes we do and it is a legacy I could have done without What is the use of it It is as if that old war is in my own memory my own consciousness In this extraordinary book the 2007 Nobel Laureate Doris Lessing explores the lives of her parents each irrevocably damaged by the Great War Her father wanted the simple life of an English farmer but shrapnel almost killed him in the trenches and thereafter he had to wear a wooden leg Her mother Emily spent the war nursing the wounded in the Royal Free Hospital after her great love a doctor drowned in the Channel In the fictional first half of Alfred and Emily Doris Lessing imagines the happier lives her parents might have made for themselves had there been no war a story that begins with their meeting at a village cricket match outside Colchester This is followed by a piercing examination of their relationship as it actually was in the shadow of the Great War of the family s move to Africa and of the impact of her parents marriage on a young woman growing up in a strange land Here I still am says Doris Lessing trying to get out from under that monstrous legacy trying to get free Triumphant with the publication of Alfred and Emily she has done just that Planet Cat Sandra Choron,Harry
