The authors build the case for the importance of healthy relationships in our corporations and our communities. With any luck, this book will change your life.      Buddhism and American Thinkers Kenneth K. Inada, Nolan P. Jacobson, 1984-06-30 In Buddhism and American Thinkers, leading scholars explore Buddhist influences on the currents of American thought. The essays presented here advance a continuing dialogue between East and West and show how Buddhism has made ever-deepening penetrations into the very substratum of American thinking. Contributors to this volume share a concern with ideas that constitute a common core of Buddhist and American philosophy. Each relates Buddhism to a factor in American thinking, exploring the numerous ways in which Buddhist perspectives on personal identity, human suffering, and alienation, the nature of compassionate love, and the social nature of ultimate reality amplify and clarify perspectives found in the golden age of American philosophy, particularly in the thought of William James, Josiah Royce, Alfred North Whitehead, John Dewey, Charles Sanders Peirce, and Charles Hartshorne. The great living American philosopher Buddhism and American Thinkers brings new light to the interrelationship between an ancient orientation to life and the very deepest ideas in the history of American thought.      The Heart of Buddhist Philosophy Nolan Pliny Jacobson, 2010-03-19 In arriving at the heart of Buddhist philosophy, Nolan Pliny Jacobson attempts to eliminate some of the confusion in the West and perhaps in the East as well concerning the Buddhist view of what is concrete and ultimately real in the world. Jacobson presents Nagarjuna, the Plato of the Buddhist tradition, as the major exemplar of the Buddhist expression of life. In his comparison of Buddhism and Western theology, Jacobson demonstrates that some efforts in Western religious thought approach the Buddhist empirical stance.      At Home in Creativity Bruce Southworth, 1995 For many religious liberals, Henry Nelson Wieman (1884-1975) saved theology from the secular modernist and the conservative Barthians of his time. Southworth traces Wieman's life and the events that shaped his philosophy.      The Personalist, 1959      The Philosophical Forum, 1959      Modern Christian Thought James C. Livingston, 1971 This is the second edition.

of a widely acclaimed introduction to modern Christian thought originally published by Prentice Hall in 2001 It presents full scholarly accounts of the major movements thinkers theologians and philosophers in the Christian tradition since the 18th century Enlightenment It also includes solid historical background and critical assessments The book now covers the entire modern period in both Europe and the USA It is the first text to include extensive treatment of modern Catholic thinkers Evangelical thought and Black and Womanist theology The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J.

Dorrien,2003-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom The Student as a Person, (focused on Higher Education) Educational Futures,
