Migrants In Greater Bombay:

Migrants in Greater Bombay Kunniparampil Curien Zachariah, 1968 Studies in Migration ,2025-10-27 This book represents a multi disciplinary attempt to analyze and understand the problems relating to migration both internal and international Migration is assuming extremely critical significance in contemporary times in the context of rapid industrialization and economic development Its significance expands well beyond regional geography urban planning and housing policies etc into problems of law and order conduct of national integration and management of human relations Not only demographers and urban specialists but other social scientists are now finding migration to be an area of absorbing and sustained academic interest This book brings together twelve essays focussing on the historical demographic and sociological dimensions of migration A wide range of migration situations from the rural to international are explored and many conceptual theoretical and empirical aspects of the phenomenon are explored The principal focus of analysis throughout is on human aspects of migration poverty deprivation and subsistence The book constitutes by its multi disciplinary perspective a pioneering contribution to the sociology of migration and will be useful for social scientists as well as administrators politicians and social workers Census of India, 1961 India. Office of the Registrar, 1962 Size and Composition of Households Kumudini Dandekar, 1971 Statistical report based on the results of the 1961 census of India on the size and composition by sex and age group of family households in both rural area and urban areas Population Redistribution and Development in South Asia L.A. Kosinski, K.M. Elahi, 2012-12-06 The mutual relationship between change in population distribution and its determinants and consequences on one hand and social and economic development on the other is becoming an increasingly important area of concern for researchers policy makers and planners alike During the last several years the International Geographical Union Commission on Population Geography has devoted much of its attention to this problem and organized a series of international meetings focusing on population redistribution and its ramifications in different parts of the world During one such meeting held in 1980 in Karachi Pakistan some thirty papers were submitted by participants coming mostly from five countries in South Asia Bangladesh India Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka The present volume is an outcome of that symposium but it should not be regarded merely as a report of proceedings these have been published separately by the Commission Furthermore all Pakistani papers were published in their original version in a separate volume edited by M. I. Siddiqi who coordinated local arrangements for the meeting on behalf of Karachi University This present volume offers only a selection of the original papers all substantially edited and thoroughly revised and brings them together with additionally solicited texts All original figures have been redrawn and tables and references have been updated and standardized as much as possible Indian Population Bulletin , 1966 Census of India, 1991 , 1994 Migrants in Greater Bombay Kunniparampil Curien Zachariah, 1968 Census of India, 1991: District census handbook, A , 1994 Frontiers in Migration Analysis R.
