Mijikenda Kenya:

The Giriama and Colonial Resistance in Kenya, 1800-1920 Cynthia Brantley, Cynthia Johnson, 1981-01-01

Kenyas Past as Prologue Marie-Aude Fouere, Susan Mwangi, 2015-06-16 During the run up to Kenyas 2013 general elections crucial political and civic questions were raised Could past mistakes especially political and ethnic related violence be avoided this time round Would the spectre of the 2007 post electoral violence positively or negatively affect debates and voting How would politicians electoral bodies such as the IEBC the Kenyan civil society and the international community weigh in on the elections More generally would the 2013 elections bear witness to the building up of an electoral culture in Kenya characterized by free and fair elections or would it show that voting is still weakened by political malpractices partisan opinions and emotional reactions Would Kenyas past be inescapable or would it prepare the scene for a new political order Kenyas Past as Prologue adopts a multidisciplinary perspective mainly built upon field based ethnography and a selection of case studies to answer these questions Under the leadership of the French Institute for Research in Africa Institut francais de recherche en Afrique IFRA political scientists historians and anthropologists explore various aspects of the electoral process to contribute in depth analyses of the last elections They highlight the structural factors underlying election and voting in Kenya including the political system culture and political transition They also interrogate the short term trends and issues that influence the new political order The book provides insight into specific case studies situations and contexts thus bringing nuances and diversity into focus to better assess Kenyas evolving electoral democracy Movements, Borders, and Identities in Africa Toyin Falola, Aribidesi Adisa Usman, 2009 Migration has become a continuous phenomenon in the history of human societies Migration is synonymous with the history of Africa itself The migration of individuals and groups over time is associated with the emergence of cultures and of civilizations throughout the world This book establishes the centrality of migrations and movements of people in the historical evolution of African peoples and societies By making use of different sources oral archaeological and written and focusing on various subjects and geographical areas the book shows that migration was a multifaceted phenomenon which varied in nature and character over time and in different places Using carefully selected case studies drawn from across the continent the book provides a broad but insightful overview of the subject of migrations and the varying impact of slavery commerce gender religion colonialism poverty and development on the movements of people and ideas and on the development of states and societies on the continent most especially in the last two centuries The chapters are based on original research and recent thinking on migrations in Africa and their changing forms and dynamics since the pre colonial period The various topics addressed include the causes and consequences of migration population movements displacements migration experiences settlement patterns and strategies labor mobility immigrant societies identity and culture contact as well as conceptual and methodological aspects of research on migration The contributors represent scholars from diverse fields with extensive teaching and research experience Thus the book provides a broad but insightful overview of the subject of migrations from Preface and Introduction Africa for Sale?, 2013-06-15 The past several decades have witnessed a rise in foreign and domestic investments in Africa's arable land. While such land projects are currently the focus of widespread media and scholarly interest, the role of the state in driving negotiating and facilitating these acquisitions deserves closer attention. This book analyzes how state land policies, stakeholder interactions and privatization schemes interact to facilitate large scale land acquisitions. It includes a study of the various forms of state intervention, the influence of foreign agencies, governments and private entities and a look at how states interact with local populations. The inclusion of case studies in settings throughout the African continent should attract the interest of both an academic and non academic readership. Swahili and Sabaki Derek Nurse, Thomas J. Hinnebusch, Gérard Philipson, 1993 The Sabaki languages form a major Bantu subgroup and are spoken by 35 million East Africans in Somalia, Kenya, Tanzania, Mozambique and the Comoro Islands. The authors provide a historical comparative treatment of Swahili and other Sabaki languages, an account of the relationship of Swahili to Sabaki and to other Bantu languages and some data on contemporary Sabaki languages. Data sets, appendices, maps and figures present essential information on phonology, lexical makeup and tense aspect morphology. The final chapter is a synthesis describing the linguistic and historical relationship of the Sabaki dialects to each other and to hypothetical proto stages. Gender and the Culture of Fertility Among the Giriama of Kenya Monica Udvardy, 1990 Contesting Identities Rebecca Gearhart, 2014 This volume re-centres perspectives on Kenyan coastal history and society, moving away from the Swahili peoples as central actors and foregrounding other African peoples, particularly the Mijikenda, whose stories have received less emphasis. It explores how these coastal peoples have shaped their identities in conjunction with and in relation to their neighbours, examining the social, economic and political interactions between coastal residents in historical and contemporary contexts. Contributors include a new generation of Mijikenda scholar activists. Kenya's Ethnic Communities Wangũhũ Ng'ang'a, 2006 The Kaya Complex Thomas T. Spear, 1979 Traditions of Origin and Their Interpretation Thomas T. Spear, 1981 Borderlands in World History, 1700-1914 P. Readman, C. Radding, C. Bryant, 2014-05-20 Covering two hundred years, this groundbreaking book brings together essays on borderlands by leading experts in the modern history of the Americas, Europe, Africa, Asia and Australia, to offer the first historical study of borderlands with a global reach. A History of the Trans-sabaki Giriama of Kenya's Coastal Hinterland, 1850-1945 G. M. Gona, 1996 Tradition and Change in Kenya Dirk Berg-Schlosser, 1984 A History of Kenya William Robert Ochieng', 1985 Studies in the Linguistic Sciences, 1997 Also issued online Kenya Robert Lewis Collison, 1982 African Visions Cheryl Mwaria, Silvia Federici, Joseph McLaren, 2000-08-30 The complexity of African society entering the 21st century necessitates an interdisciplinary examination of Africa's political, social and cultural developments and challenges. Focusing on Social Movements and Literature, Social Change and Culture, the book brings together a wide range of essays by committed scholars, writers and activists concerned with progressive approaches to Africa's dilemmas. Beginning with an overview by anthropologist Cheryl Mwaria, African Visions addresses such issues as structural adjustments, religious freedom, human rights, democratization, educational movements, and health care. Particular analyses consider intellectual property, student activism, and the AIDS epidemic. Mwaria, Federici, and McLaren also explore the way social and cultural questions have been treated in literary works and theoretical studies dealing with hybridity, sexual politics, literacy, socialist orientations, and language. Noted literary scholars Odun Balogun and Alamin Mazrui consider aspects of these issues. The collection also examines trends in literature publishing and theater in such countries as Algeria, Niger, Nigeria, and South Africa in relation to themes such as gender, popular culture, African novels, and protest. Highlighting articles by two of Africa's leading activist writers, Dennis Brutus of South Africa stressing regional cooperation, and Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o of Kenya advocating African languages, African Visions avoids the pessimism associated with numerous 20th-century studies. Brutus and Ngũgĩ consider the economic and cultural effects of globalization and the necessity for promoting self-determination. An essential resource for all scholars and students concerned with contemporary African life and culture.

Kenya's Past Thomas T. Spear, 1981 Farming Systems and Food Security in Kwale District, Kenya Cora Van Oosten, 1989 Vasco Da Gama and the Linking of Europe and Asia Anthony R. Disney, Emily Booth, 2000. This volume of thirty-one essays provides a thorough re-evaluation of Vasco Da Gama's voyage, the circumstances surrounding it, and its short and long-term economic, cultural, political, and religious significance. The book challenges the view that Portuguese influence in maritime Asia was only minor.
