Parda Study Muslim Womens Life North Ind:

Global Migrants, Local Lives : Travel and Transformation in Rural Bangladesh Katy Gardner, 1995-02-23 Long term migration is one of the most important factors in the formation of cultural identities in the modern world Immigrant communities are usually studied in the context of the country people have migrated to Katy Gardner however looks at the neglected sending side of the equation In the sending communities out migration has become a central economic and social resource the route to social as well as physical mobility transforming those who gain access to it Dr Gardner examines the cultural context and effects of the long term migration from Bangladesh to Britain and the Middle East drawing on her fieldwork in the Sylhet district an area of exceptional migration Major aspects of Bangladeshi life such as land family structure marriage and religion all of which have been affected by the heavy out migration are covered in detail and the transformation of the social structure is mapped In focusing on local ideology this book shows how local cultural meanings are constantly negotiated and contested by different groups in the context of rapid economic change At the heart of this important contribution to the anthropology of migration is a presentation of the dynamic nature of migration and the concomitant possibility of self transformation it holds for migrant cultures Rural Muslim Women Sekh Rahim Mondal, 2005 Admittedly women s perspectives are not much reflected in the discourse and agenda development planning and interventions Due to lack of research there is tremendous scarcity of information about social condition of women among various Indian communities This book is solely devoted to examine the social situation of Muslim Women of India in general and the state of West Bengal in particular The situation of Muslim women of West Bengal specially of Northern region of this State has been described in details The present study seeks to explore Role and status of Muslim women as well as their problems and prospects Quality of Socio economic life of the Muslim women and the extent of changes that have occurred among them and Problems the Muslim women face towards their empowerment under contemporary changing world order The book also highlights some of the policy implications of major findings of the study With its original data and fresh theoretical perspective the book will serve the interest of social scientists policy makers and women activists Questioning the 'Muslim Woman' Nida Kirmani, 2016-03-16 The marginalisation of Muslims in India has recently been the subject of heated public debate In these discussions however Muslim women are often either overlooked or treated as a homogenous group with a common set of interests Focusing on the narratives of women living in a predominantly Muslim colony in South Delhi this book attempts to demonstrate the complexity of their lives and the multiple levels of insecurity they face Unlike other studies on Indian Muslims that focus on Islam as a defining factor this book highlights the ways in which religious identity intersects with other identities including class status regional affiliation and gender The author also sheds light on the impact of such events as the Babri Masjid demolition in 1992 and the subsequent riots the Gujarat communal carnage in 2002 and the anti Sikh violence in New Delhi in 1984 along with the rise of Hindutva and growing Islamophobia experienced worldwide in the post 9 11 period on the articulation of identities at the local level and increasing religion based spatial segregation in Indian cities The study highlights how these incidents combine in different ways to increase the sense of marginalisation experienced by Muslims at the level of the locality Understanding the need to look beyond preconceived religious categories this book will serve as essential reading for those interested in sociology anthropology gender religious and urban studies as well as policymakers and organisations concerned with issues related to religious minorities in India

Inscribing South Asian Muslim Women Tahera Aftab,2008 Offers an annotated source for the study of the public and private lives of South Asian Muslim women Women in Asia Barbara N. Ramusack, Sharon L. Sievers, 1999-06-22 Barbara N Ramusack writes on South and Southeast Asia surveying both the prescriptive roles and the lived experiences of women as well as the construction of gender from early states to the 1990s Although both regions are home to Hindu Buddhist and Muslim religious traditions and had extended trade relations they reveal striking differences in the status and roles of women and the processes of cultural adaptation Sharon Sievers presents an overview of women's participation in the histories of China Japan and Korea from prehistory to the modern period that provides a framework for incorporating women into world history classrooms It offers analyses on major issues derived from recent research and discusses such stereotypical cultural practices as footbinding long seen as exotic in the West in the context of women's lives Book jacket Sociology of Religion in India Rowena Robinson, 2004-02-20 Focused on the theme of the sociology of religion this volume brings together essays by well known scholars which examine the resurgence of religious identities in the Indian context The contributors question many received notions address critical problems and raise important issues surrounding various current debates The papers are divided into four sections The first deals with religion society and national identity The next section is devoted to sects cults shrines and the making of traditions The third section discusses religious conversion while the last section provides a comparative perspective drawn from Pakistan Bangladesh Trinidad and Tobago and the United States Tackling a subject of immense contemporary importance and demonstrating a sensitivity to the shifts and changes brought about in faith identity and tradition this volume will be of considerable interest to students of sociology anthropology religion politics and history This book is one of the Indian Sociological Society Golden Jubilee Volumes Status of Muslim Women in North India Shibani Roy, 1979 Kinship and Continuity Alison Shaw, 2014-02-04 Kinship and Continuity is a vivid ethnographic account of the development of the Pakistani presence in Oxford from after World War II to the present day Alison Shaw addresses the dynamics of migration patterns of residence and kinship ideas about health and illness and notions of political and religious authority and discusses the transformations and continuities of the lives of British Pakistanis against the backdrop of rural Pakistan and local socio economic changes This is a fully updated revised edition of the book first published in 1988 Restoring Women to History Organization of American Historians, 1990 Muslim Women in India Mohini Anjum, 1992 The Life of Music in North India Daniel M. Neuman, 1980 Daniel M Neuman offers an account of North

Indian Hindustani music culture and the changing social context of which it is part as expressed in the thoughts and actions of its professional musicians Drawing primarily from fieldwork performed in Delhi in 1969 71 from interviewing musicians learning and performing on the Indian fiddle and speaking with music connoisseurs Neuman examines the cultural and social matrix in which Hindustani music is nurtured listened and attended to cultivated and consumed in contemporary India Through his interpretation of the impact that modern media educational institutions and public performances exert on the music and musicians Neuman highlights the drama of a great musical tradition engaging a changing world and presents the adaptive strategies its practitioners employ to practice their art His work has gained the distinction of introducing a new approach to research on Indian music and appears in this edition with a new preface by the author
