Paredes Hablan:

Carmen Boullosa: In Between Brooklyn and Coyoacan María del Mar López-Cabrales, María Rosario Matz, 2024-09-03
Focusing on the works of Mexican writer Carmen Boullosa for the English reader this volume provides access to a critical analysis of Boullosa's writings. Her daily writing has produced an enormous and varied literary corpus that includes narrative theater and poetry in addition to her work in television. This volume is divided into three different segments. The initial part is composed of six essays that analyze Boullosa's narrative and theatrical works. In these essays contributors evaluate and analyze Boullosa's literary production covering many of her novels including Antes 1989, Llanto novelas imposibles 1992, La Milagrosa 1993, Cielos de la Tierra 1997, La otra mano de Lepanto 2005, La novela perfecta 2006, El complot de los Romanícos 2009, Cuando me volví mortal 2010, Las paredes hablan 2012, Texas 2014, and El libro de Ana 2019 as well as her Teatro her tico 1987. By analyzing her literary corpus contributors explore how she reshapes historical narratives and offers thought provoking commentaries on our modern society and its problems. Boullosa's writings invite an in depth analysis due to their rich complexity and explorations of various themes. Therefore this volume presents how her work has a significant social impact prompting discussions on the topics of gender power history social inequality and cultural diversity while encouraging critical thinking and empathy. These critical essays are followed by an interview with the author. We decided to also include the Spanish version of this interview for those able to read it. Boullosa's essay pica m a Mi pica My Epic concludes this volume. When reading this essay we suggest to the reader to keep in mind how often her works provide a voice to characters for whom History refused to grant one. This volume will provide its reader with a key to discovering the many layers present in Boullosa's writing.

Peace System Analysis Marije Luitjens, 2026-01-01

This book introduces the Peace System Analysis a new framework for unpacking the complexity of peace and conflict processes. Drawing on ethnographic research in Kosovo and Medellín it illustrates how mapping the links between different parts of a peace process helps uncover existing capacities that can reinforce long term peace. The book argues that many peacebuilding models fail to capture the realities of conflict affected contexts before introducing the Peace System Analysis as a tool for examining four key components: 1 local understandings of peace, 2 obstacles to peace, 3 capacities for peace and 4 trans scalarity of peace. It then demonstrates its application in both Kosovo and Medellín revealing hidden dynamics, interconnections and opportunities for transformation. Bridging theory and practice this book connects debates on complexity theory, critical peace studies and peace policy offering scholars, policymakers and practitioners fresh insights and strategies for building peace.
