Paris To The Moon:

Paris to the Moon Adam Gopnik, 2001-12-18 Paris The name alone conjures images of chestnut lined boulevards sidewalk cafés breathtaking façades around every corner in short an exquisite romanticism that has captured the American imagination for as long as there have been Americans In 1995 Adam Gopnik his wife and their infant son left the familiar comforts and hassles of New York City for the urbane glamour of the City of Light Gopnik is a longtime New Yorker writer and the magazine has sent its writers to Paris for decades but his was above all a personal pilgrimage to the place that had for so long been the undisputed capital of everything cultural and beautiful It was also the opportunity to raise a child who would know what it was to romp in the Luxembourg Gardens to enjoy a croque monsieur in a Left Bank café a child and perhaps a father too who would have a grasp of that Parisian sense of style we Americans find so elusive So in the grand tradition of the American abroad Gopnik walked the paths of the Tuileries enjoyed philosophical discussions at his local bistro wrote as violet twilight fell on the arrondissements Of course as readers of Gopnik's beloved and award winning Paris Journals in The New Yorker know there was also the matter of raising a child and carrying on with day to day not so fabled life Evenings with French intellectuals preceded middle of the night baby feedings afternoons were filled with trips to the Musée d'Orsay and pinball games weekday leftovers were eaten while three star chefs debated a culinary crisis As Gopnik describes in this funny and tender book the dual processes of navigating a foreign city and becoming a parent are not completely dissimilar journeys both hold new routines new languages a new set of rules by which everyday life is lived With singular wit and insight Gopnik weaves the magical with the mundane in a wholly delightful often hilarious look at what it was to be an American family man in Paris at the end of the twentieth century We went to Paris for a sentimental reeducation I did anyway even though the sentiments we were instructed in were not the ones we were expecting to learn which I believe is why they call it an education Paris to the Moon, 2000 From Paris to the Moon Adam Gopnik, 2000 Night, Youth, Paris, and the Moon John Collier, 1938 The Judgment of Paris and Some Other Legends Astronomically Considered Emmeline Mary Plunket, 1908 Through the Children's Gate Adam Gopnik, 2006 Following Adam Gopnik's best selling Paris to the Moon the adventure continues against the panorama of another storied city Autumn 2000 the Gopnik family moves back to a New York that seems at first safer and shinier than ever Here are the triumphs and travails of father mother son and daughter and of the teachers coaches therapists adversaries and friends who round out the extended urban family From Blueie a goldfish fated to meet a Hitchcockian end to Charlie Ravioli an imaginary playmate who being a New Yorker is too busy to play Gopnik's New York is charmed by the civilization of childhood It is a fabric of living which though rent by the events of 9/11 will reweave itself reviving a world where Jewish jokes mingle with debates about the problem of consciousness the price of real estate and the meaning of modern art By turns elegant and exultant written with a signature mix of mind and heart Through the Children's Gate is at once a celebration of a newly fragile city and a poignant study of a
