Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous most distinctive and most influential poems Inventions on the Brink J. T. Barbarese, 2025-11-13 Inventions on the Brink a collection of literary journalism by J T Barbarese offers engagingly plainspoken and informed essays on American poetry from Edgar Allan Poe to the present written by a poet with long experience in the classroom The collection discusses writers as divergent as Walt Whitman and Ezra Pound Hart Crane and A R Ammons Gerald Stern and John Prine It includes a separate section of essays examining the craft of translation with attention to specific works translated from ancient Greek Italian and modern French A distinguishing feature of the book is that it is informed by literary theory but independent of any particular critical modality Barbarese writes about literature for a general audience particularly readers with wide tastes interested in engaging with literary art His essays are the outcome of deeply reading and internalizing work he has known studied and admired over the course of a long career of publishing teaching and public lecturing Syrian Poets and Vernacular Modernity Daniel Behar, 2025-05-31 This book distinguishes a Syrian style of qasidat nathr prose poem as a piece of collaborative performance called shafawiyya vernacularised poetic speech The book describes the poetic lineages stretching from early Syrian independence to the 21st century whose task it was to bring poetic expression closer to everyday life These poets are shown cultivating genres and translational practices rooted in a plebeian civilian identity that counters both heroised images of the prophet poet and stern authoritarian rule A comparative analysis is provided to understand shafawiyya poetics as a transnational mode of creative engagement This analysis includes aesthetic affinities and instances of transmission between Arabic poetry and poetries written in formerly Soviet countries Poland Czechoslovakia Romania Bulgaria From this vantage point matters of perennial debate in comparative literature vernacular translatability postcolonial poetry are shown from a new perspective The book closely examines a wealth of unknown primary poetic texts from Syria that make up the new poetics and challenge received ideas about modern Arabic poetry It describes the institutional culture of poetry translations in Syria and analyses the modes of circulation by which translations pollinated original works Behar rereads the works of famous Arabo Syrian poets such as Nizar Qabbani and Muhammad al Maghut along transnational lines offering a substantial rethinking of the key terms in comparative literary studies as seen through the lens of everyday poetics Idylls, Legends and Lyrics Amelia Garland Mears, 1890 The Children's Reading Frances Jenkins Olcott, 1912 A Catalogue of Books Placed in the Galleries in the Reading Room of the British Museum.
