Holmes, Andrew C. Winner, Toshi Yoshihara, 2009-04-02 This is the first academic study of India s emerging maritime strategy and offers a systematic analysis of the interplay between Western military thought and Indian maritime traditions By a quirk of historical fate Europe embarked on its Age of Discovery just as the main Asian powers were renouncing the sea ushering in centuries of Western dominance In the 21st century however Asian states are once again resuming a naval focus with both China and India dedicating some of their new found wealth to building powerful navies and coast guards and drawing up maritime strategies to govern the use of these forces The United States like the British Empire before it is attempting to manage these rising sea powers while preserving its maritime primacy This book probes how India looks at the sea what kind of strategy and seagoing forces New Delhi may craft in the coming years and how Indian leaders may use these forces It examines the material dimension but its major premise is that navies represent a physical expression of a society's history philosophical traditions and culture This book then ventures a comprehensive appraisal of Indian maritime strategy This book will be of interest to students of sea power strategic studies Indian politics and Asian Studies in general James R Holmes is an Associate Professor of Strategy at the U S Naval War College and a former U S Navy surface warfare officer Toshi Yoshihara is an Associate Professor in the Strategy and Policy Department at the Naval War College Andrew C Winner is Professor in the Strategic Research Department at the U S Naval War College

China in India's Post-Cold War Engagement with Southeast Asia Chietigj Bajpae, 2022-02-17 This book examines the role of China in driving and sustaining India's post Cold War engagement with Southeast Asia In doing so it provides a unique insight into the regional dimensions of the Sino Indian relationship India launched its Look East Policy in the early 1990s as part of a concerted effort to revive the importance of Southeast Asia in the country's foreign policy agenda This study assesses the role of the China factor defined here as China's regional role which has been interpreted through the prism of the Sino Indian relationship in the inception and evolution of the policy More specifically it establishes the extent to which China has been raised as a priority in discourses of India's Look East Policy and how this has varied over time from the origins of the policy through to the most recent phase of the renamed Act East Policy Addressing the distinction between what policymakers signal in their official statements and their true or underlying motivations the book alludes to the fact that government officials may not always reflect true intentions in their official statements and it is often what is not said that may reveal more about their real motivations This is particularly relevant in the context of the Sino Indian relationship where diplomatic rhetoric often masks more competitive and confrontational aspects of the bilateral relationship An important analysis of the interplay between India's relations with Southeast Asia and China this book will be of interest to academics policymakers and students in the fields of International Relations Asian Security Southeast Asian politics and in particular Indian foreign policy the Sino Indian relationship and India's Look East Act East Policy
