combination of the dream like and the hyper vigilant The Old Ways is as with all of Macfarlane's work a magnificent read Each sentence can carry astonishing discovery Rick Bass US novelist and nature writer The Old Ways confirms Robert Macfarlane's reputation as one of the most eloquent and observant of contemporary writers about nature Scotland on Sunday Sublime writing sets the imagination tingling Macfarlane's way of writing is free exploratory rambling and haphazard but resourceful individual following his own whims and laying an irresistible trail for readers to follow Sunday Times Macfarlane relishes wild as well as old places He writes about both beautifully I love to read Macfarlane John Sutherland Financial Times Read this and it will be impossible to take an unremarkable walk again Metro Robert Macfarlane won the Guardian First Book Award the Somerset Maugham Award and the Sunday Times Young Writer of the Year Award for his first book Mountains of the Mind 2003 His second The Wild Places 2007 was similarly celebrated winning three prizes and being shortlisted for six more Both books were adapted for television by the BBC He is a Fellow of Emmanuel College Cambridge

A collection of many select and Christian epistles, letters and testimonies, written on sundry occasions, by that ancient, eminent, faithful Friend and minister of Christ Jesus, George Fox George Fox, 1831 Postmodern Public Policy Hugh Theodore Miller, 2002-08-29 Postmodern Public Policy introduces new ways of investigating the urgent difficulties confronting the public sector The second half of the twentieth century saw approaches to public administration public policy and public management dominated by technical instrumental thought that aspired to neutrality objectivity and managerialism This form of social science has contributed to a public sector where policy debates have been reduced to bumper sticker slogans a citizenry largely alienated and distant from government and analysis that ignores history and context and eschews the lived experiences of actual people Hugh T Miller brings together the latest thinking from epistemology evolutionary theory and discourse theory in an accessible and useful manner to emphasize how a postmodern approach offers the possibility of well considered pragmatic solutions grounded in political pluralism and social interaction between public service professionals and community members
