

On Becoming Homeless

Christian G. Meyer

On Becoming Homeless:

On Becoming Homeless Ione Y. DeOllos, 1997 Originally written as a doctoral dissertation in sociology this book focuses upon the problems of homelessness and the role of shelters in dealing with homeless families It uses participatory field research at two temporary shelters to analyze the phases of reaction that ensue over time of dwelling among parents residing with their children The author also discusses how residing at homeless shelters affects survival of family units as well as the quality of relationships between homeless families and their kin Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Homelessness Xina M. Uhl, 2020-12-15 Homelessness pervades America's cities and rural areas Multiple factors force people into a life on the street including job loss mental illness and drug addiction Homelessness can happen to anyone regardless of age gender marital status and race While it's important for societies to provide shelter food and support for homeless people it's even more necessary to prevent people from becoming homeless in the first place Young readers will benefit from this guide's concise language vivid photographs and helpful graphics All readers will enhance their understanding of the factors that affect homelessness in America

Being Homeless Sarah Eason, Karen Latchana Kenney, 2022-08-01 Becoming homeless happens but how does it feel when it happens to you Being homeless is a devastating and life changing experience that happens to thousands of young people every year Discover what it is like to be made homeless through the heartfelt stories of survivors Learn how it happened to them read their journeys out of homelessness and find out more about what causes people to become homeless in this open sensitive and informative exploration Sometimes painful experiences happen It Happened to Me explores painful life crises that affect many young people through poignant diary entries from composite teens who have experienced these situations supported by informational text Every year more and more young people face life changing situations from drug and alcohol abuse to eating disorders family breakups and homelessness Being young has never been more challenging Using a unique in their own words approach this series will strike a chord with many young people who are struggling with complex issues and help those around them better understand how and why it has happened to them

Moving to Nowhere Mary E. Walsh, 1992-03-30 The number of homeless families in the United States continues to increase at an alarming rate There is little doubt that becoming homeless and living in shelters has had significant effects on the lives of the children in these families While many empirical studies have documented the effects of homelessness on one or another aspect of children's lives Moving To Nowhere looks at the experience of losing one's home and living in a shelter from the perspective of the child Children who are homeless tell their own story They speak of life in a shelter as they have known it It is through these stories that human service professionals can come to see homelessness as the children themselves see it and can learn what living in a shelter is like Children who are homeless tell their own story They describe how they became homeless why they think it happened to their family what their expectations and concerns were as they realized they would be moving to a shelter and what the shelter was like when they arrived They speak often of missing their old neighborhoods their friends and their extended family They report their fears their worries about their family's future the absence of money and resources and for some the presence of violence or substance abuse in their families They repeatedly tell of their embarrassment about being homeless this profoundly colors their relationships to friends schoolmates and teachers And in each of their stories these children provide clear and moving examples of how they manage to survive on a day to day basis while they wait for permanent housing Health care professionals psychologists and teachers as well as students and the general public will find this work poignant and instructive

Being Homeless Sarah Eason, 2022 An exploration of how people become homeless what it's like to be homeless and ways to escape homelessness Homelessness in America Today Jennifer Bringle, 2010-08-15 Provides information on homelessness in the United States and different viewpoints for dealing with the issue On Being Homeless Museum of the City of New York, 1987 How to House the Homeless Ingrid Gould Ellen, Brendan O'Flaherty, 2010-06-24 How to House the Homeless editors Ingrid Gould Ellen and Brendan O'Flaherty propose that the answers entail rethinking how housing markets operate and developing more efficient interventions in existing service programs The book critically reassesses where we are now analyzes the most promising policies and programs going forward and offers a new agenda for future research How to House the Homeless makes clear the inextricable link between homelessness and housing policy Contributor Jill Khadduri reviews the current residential services system and housing subsidy programs For the chronically homeless she argues a combination of assisted housing approaches can reach the greatest number of people and specifically an expanded Housing Choice Voucher system structured by location income and housing type can more efficiently reach people at risk of becoming homeless and reduce time spent homeless Robert Rosenheck examines the options available to homeless people with mental health problems and reviews the cost effectiveness of five service models system integration supported housing clinical case management benefits outreach and supported employment He finds that only programs that subsidize housing make a noticeable dent in homelessness and that no one program shows significant benefits in multiple domains of life Contributor Sam Tsemberis assesses the development and cost effectiveness of the Housing First program which serves mentally ill homeless people in more than four hundred cities He asserts that the program's high housing retention rate and general effectiveness make it a viable candidate for replication across the country Steven Raphael makes the case for a strong link between homelessness and local housing market regulations which affect housing affordability and shows that the problem is more prevalent in markets with stricter zoning laws Finally Brendan O'Flaherty bridges the theoretical gap between the worlds of public health and housing research evaluating the pros and cons of subsidized housing programs and the economics at work in the rental housing market and home ownership Ultimately he suggests the most viable strategies will serve as safety nets social insurance to reach people who are homeless now and to prevent homelessness in the future It is crucial that the links between effective policy and the whole cycle of homelessness life conditions service systems and housing markets be made clear now With a keen eye on the big picture of housing policy How to House the Homeless shows what works and what doesn't in reducing the numbers of homeless and reaching those most at risk Who is at Risk of Becoming Homeless in Long Beach?, 2005* My Journey Through Homelessness Stigmatized Hearts, 2015-01-02 In this anthology of life narratives we share our unique stories about becoming homeless the things we experienced while we were homeless and our hopes and dreams for the future All of us have experienced some form of extreme trauma such as serious physical or sexual assault witnessing severe injury or death being involved in a life threatening accident or having combat experience in a war zone Many of us have turned to alcohol and drugs to help blunt the effects of these experiences It is our hope that the real story will help people come to understand and appreciate that being homeless is a condition not a choice Down and Out in America Peter H. Rossi, 2013-11-22 The most accurate and comprehensive picture of homelessness to date this study offers a powerful explanation of its causes proposes short and long term solutions and documents the striking contrasts between the homeless of the 1950s and 1960s and the contemporary homeless population which is younger and contains more women children and blacks Who is at Risk of Becoming Homeless in Long Beach?, 2005 The Man in the Dog Park Cathy A. Small, 2020-04-15 The Man in the Dog Park offers the reader a rare window into homeless life Spurred by a personal relationship with a homeless man who became her co author Cathy A Small takes a compelling look at what it means and what it takes to be homeless Interviews and encounters with dozens of homeless people lead us into a world that most have never seen We travel as an intimate observer into the places that many homeless frequent including a community shelter a day labor agency a panhandling corner a pawn shop and a HUD housing office Through these personal stories we witness the obstacles that homeless people face and the ingenuity it takes to negotiate life without a home The Man in the Dog Park points to the ways that our own cultural assumptions and blind spots are complicit in US homelessness and contribute to the degree of suffering that homeless people face At the same time Small Kordosky and Moore show us how our own sense of connection and compassion can bring us into touch with the actions that will lessen homelessness and bring greater humanity to the experience of those who remain homeless The raw emotion of The Man in the Dog Park will forever change your appreciation for and understanding of the homeless life so many deal with outside of the limelight of contemporary society Critical Approaches to Polycrisis Tamsin Parnell, Tom Van Hout, Dario Del Fante, 2025-02-12 This book critically examines how polycrisis is recontextualised and abused in contemporary discourse from across Europe The book brings together established and emerging researchers in the field of discourse studies from around the world to explore the accelerating interconnected challenges of climate change conflict risk Brexit democracy COVID 19 the rising cost of living and migration Recognising that polycrisis is socially produced constructed and dismantled through discourse the authors contemplate the discursive manifestations of crisis Falling under the banner of critical discourse studies CDS the methodological approaches are heterogeneous including but not limited to corpus assisted CDS and multimodal CDS The data are equally varied ranging from focus groups to no war letters media representations to environmental protection commercials The volume provides a comprehensive consideration of how critical approaches to discourse can help to make sense of resist and respond to poly crisis and it will be of interest to students and scholars working in the remit of discourse studies with a particular interest in crisis communication
