On Disgust:

On Disgust Aurel Kolnai, 2003 Kolnai made a breakthrough in the phenomenology of aversion when he showed the double intentionality of emotions like fear focusing on both the object of fear and the subject's concern for his own well-being. This being one of the ways in which fear differs from disgust. In a surprising yet persuasive move Kolnai argues that disgust is never related to inorganic or non-biological matter and that its arousal by moral objects has an underlying similarity with its arousal by organic material, a particular combination of life and death. Kolnai gives an analytic list of various kinds of disgusting objects which should not be read just before lunch and shows how disgust relates to the five senses. On Disgust Aurel Kolnai, 2003 Kolnai made a breakthrough in the phenomenology of aversion when he showed the double intentionality of emotions like fear focusing on both the object of fear and the subject's concern for his own well-being. Foundations of Character Alexander Faulkner Shand, 1914 A scientific treatment should not diminish but increase the general interest taken in character. To bring together the various aspects of the subject which in literature are treated in isolation from one another to lead up to a general conception of it to study the methods by which the knowledge of it may be increased in accuracy and extent these are to make approaches to a scientific treatment of character. While I have had chiefly to confine myself to a study of the tendencies of the emotions and sentiments this has been throughout my aim. This book then is a study of method. Yet I do not claim that this method is essentially new. It is in the main the hypothetical method of the sciences; it has had to be adapted to the treatment of character that is all. A complete science of mind would include a science of character. The best approach to such a science is through the study of the primary emotions and their connected instincts. This study is to be directed to an analysis of tendencies. PsycINFO Database Record c 2005 APA all rights reserved

The Handbook of Disgust Research Philip A. Powell, Nathan S. Considine, 2021-11-16 This volume brings together the world's leading experts on disgust to fully explore this understudied behavior. Disgust is unique among emotions. It is at once perhaps the most basic and visceral of feelings while also being profoundly shaped by learning and culture. Evident from the earliest months of life, disgust influences individual behavior and shapes societies across political, social, economic, legal, ecological, and health contexts. As an emotion that evolved to prevent our eating contaminated foods, disgust is now known to motivate wider behaviors, social processes, and customs. On a global scale, disgust finds a place in population health initiatives from hand hygiene to tobacco warning labels and may underlie aversions to globalization and other progressive agendas such as those regarding sustainable consumption and gay marriage. This comprehensive work provides cutting-edge, timely, and succinct theoretical and empirical contributions illustrating the breadth rigor relevance and increasing maturity of disgust research to modern life It is relevant to a wide range of psychological research and is particularly important to behavior viewed through an evolutionary lens As such it will stimulate further research and clinical applications that allow for a broader conceptualization of human behavior The reader will find Succinct and accessible summaries of key perspectives Highlights of new scientific developments A rich blend of theoretical and empirical chapters     Psychological Monographs ,1914 Includes music     The Gentleman's Magazine ,1878     The Agapé and the Eucharist in the Early Church John Fitzstephen Keating,1901     Computational Models of High-level Visual Perception and Recognition Matthew Nelson Dailey,2002     The Annual Register ,1907     Appleton's Annual Cyclopaedia and Register of Important Events of the Years ,1900     Appleton's Annual Cyclopædia and Register of Important Events of the Year ... ,1900     A History of the Christian Church During the Reformation Charles Hardwick,1873     Husband and wife Marie Flora B.
