The Art of Dying Well Robert Bellarmine, 2017-10-26 Excerpt CHAPTER I HE WHO DESIRES TO DIE WELL MUST LIVE WELL I NOW commence the rules to be observed in the Art of dying well This art I shall divide into two parts in the first I shall speak of the precepts we must follow whilst in good health in the other of those we should observe when we are dangerously ill or near death's door We shall first treat of those precepts that relate to virtue and afterwards of those which relate to the sacraments for by these two we shall be especially enabled both to live well and to die well But the general rule that he who lives well will die well must be mentioned before all others for since death is nothing more than the end of life it is certain that all who live well to the end die well nor can he die ill who hath never lived ill as on the other hand he who hath never led a good life cannot die a good death The same thing is observable in many similar cases for all that walk along the right path are sure to arrive at the place of their destination whilst on the contrary they who wander from it will never arrive at their journey's end They also who diligently apply to study will soon become learned doctors but they who do not will be ignorant But perhaps some one may mention as an objection the example of the good thief who lived ill and yet died well This was not the case for that good thief led a holy life and therefore died a holy death But even supposing he had spent the greater part of his days in wickedness yet the other part of his life was spent so well that he easily repented of his former sins and gained the greatest graces For burning with the love of God he openly defended our Saviour from the calumnies of His enemies and filled with the same charity towards his neighbour he rebuked and admonished his blaspheming companion and endeavoured to convert him He was yet alive when he thus addressed him saying Neither dost thou fear God seeing thou art under the same condemnation And we indeed justly for we receive the due reward of our deeds but this man hath done no evil St Luke 23 40 41 Neither was he dead when confessing and calling upon Christ he uttered these noble words Lord remember me when thou shalt come into thy kingdom The good thief then appeared to have been one of those who came last into the vineyard and yet he received a reward greater than the first True therefore is the sentence He who lives well dies well and He who lives ill dies ill We must acknowledge that it is a most dangerous thing to deter till death our conversion from sin to virtue far more happy are they who begin to carry the yoke of the Lord from their youth as Jeremiah saith and exceedingly blessed are those who were not defiled with women and in whose mouth there was found no lie for they are without spot before the throne of God These were purchased from among men the first fruits to God and to the Lamb Apoc 14 4 5 Such were Jeremias and St John more than a prophet and above all the Mother of our Lord as well as many more whom God alone knoweth This first great truth now remains established that a good death depends upon a good life Living Well, Dying Well Judy Stevens-Long Phd, Dohrea Bardell Phd, 2018-07-09 Attitudes to death and dying are changing in the United States Today we are living longer yet with the acute awareness that what we do now will affect our remaining time Prompted by a big push from baby boomers our society is moving towards a culture that provides a greater array of positive choices in the final phase of our lives This should inspire all of us to find new ways to create joy and comfort until the very last moment of life Written by Social Sciences Professor Dr Judy Stevens Long author of the bestselling book Adult Life with Dr Dohrea Bardell a Fellow at the Institute for Social Innovation this book contains all the information you need to ensure that the last years of your life or the life of someone you love will be as satisfying comfortable and as productive as possible Patience, Compassion, Hope, and the Christian Art of Dying Well Christopher P. Vogt, 2004 By mining the rich tradition of virtue ethics Christopher Vogt uses the virtues of patience compassion and hope as a framework for specifying the shape of a good death and for naming the practices Christians should develop to live well and die well Bringing together historical biblical and contemporary sources in Christian ethics Vogt provides a long overdue theological analysis of the ars moriendi or art of dying literature of four centuries ago Through a careful analysis of Luke s passion narrative Vogt uses Jesus as the primary model for being patient in the face of death and for dying well The Art of Dying Well Saint Robert Bellarmine, Aeterna Press, 1621 IN presenting to the public another volume of Bellarmine s spiritual works I trust that like the one already published A Gradual Whereby to Ascend unto God Controversy was his chief delight his characteristic Aeterna Press The Art of Dying Rob Moll, 2021-04-06 Christians can have confidence that because death is not the end preparing to die helps us truly live In this well researched and pastorally sensitive book Rob Moll explores the Christian practice of dying well giving guidance for those who care for the dying as well as for those who grieve This expanded edition includes a new afterword by Rob s wife Clarissa reflecting on his life death and legacy The Art of Dying Well St. Robert Bellarmine, 2014-03-27 Excerpt CHAPTER I HE WHO DESIRES TO DIE WELL MUST LIVE WELL I NOW commence the rules to be observed in the Art of dying well This art I shall divide into two parts in the first I shall speak of the precepts we must follow whilst in good health in the other of those we should observe when we are dangerously ill or near death s door We shall first treat of those precepts that relate to virtue and afterwards of those which relate to the sacraments for by these two we shall be especially enabled both to live well and to die well But the general rule that he who lives well will die well must be mentioned before all others for since death is nothing more than the end of life it is certain that all who live well to the end die well nor can he die ill who hath never lived ill as on the other hand he who hath never led a good life cannot die a good death The same thing is observable in many similar cases for all that walk along the right path are sure to arrive at the place of their destination whilst on the contrary they who wander from it will never arrive at their journey s end They also who diligently apply to study will soon become learned doctors but they who do not will be ignorant But perhaps some one may mention as an objection the example of the good thief who lived ill and yet died well This was not the case for that good thief led a holy life and therefore died a holy death But even supposing he had spent the greater part of his days in wickedness yet the other part of his life was spent so well that he easily repented of his former sins and gained the greatest graces For burning with the love of God he openly defended our Saviour from the calumnies of His enemies and filled with the same charity towards his neighbour he rebuked and admonished his blaspheming companion and endeavoured to convert him He was yet alive when he thus addressed him saying Neither dost thou fear God seeing thou art under the same condemnation And we indeed justly for we receive the due reward of our deeds but this man hath done no evil St Luke 23 40 41 Neither was he dead when confessing and calling upon Christ he uttered these noble words Lord remember me when thou shalt come into thy kingdom The good thief then appeared to have been one of those who came last into the vineyard and yet he received a reward greater than the first True therefore is the sentence He who lives well dies well and He who lives ill dies ill We must acknowledge that it is a most dangerous thing to deter till death our conversion from sin to virtue far more happy are they who begin to carry the yoke of the Lord from their youth as Jeremiah saith and exceedingly blessed are those who were not defiled with women and in whose mouth there was found no lie for they are without spot before the throne of God These were purchased from among men the first fruits to God and to the Lamb Apoc 14 4 5 Such were Jeremias and St John more than a prophet and above all the Mother of our Lord as well as many more whom God alone knoweth This first great truth now remains established that a good death depends upon a good life     The Craft of Dying Well Matthew Philip,2025 The Craft of Dying Well is a transformative approach in the provision of end of life care prioritizing a sympathetic and comprehensive method to enable a peaceful transition for those facing terminal illness Comfort respect and holistic care for patients and families are key to The Craft of Dying Well Health care professionals use medical knowledge emotional support and spiritual advice to help patients find comfort and meaning in their dying days The Craft of Dying Well is a thorough examination of the concept of dying well including historical perspectives contemporary hospice care approaches cultural and spiritual issues and the art of living and dying well     The Art of Dying Well Mary Catharine O'Connor,1966

The Art of Dying Well Saint Bellarmine,2013-10-06 Now every one will admit that the Art of dying Well is the most important of all sciences at least every one who seriously reflects how after death we shall have to give an account to God of everything we did spoke or thought of during our whole life even of every idle word and that the devil being our accuser our conscience a witness and God the Judge a sentence of happiness or misery everlasting awaits us We daily see how when judgment is expected to be given even on affairs of the slightest consequence the interested party enjoy no rest but consult at one time the lawyers at another the solicitors now the judges and then their friends or relations But in death when a Cause is pending before the Supreme Judge connected with life or death eternal often is the sinner compelled when unprepared oppressed by disease and scarcely possessed of reason to give an account of those things on which when in health he had perhaps never once reflected This is the reason why miserable mortals rush in crowds to hell and as St Peter saith If the just man shall scarcely be saved where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear 1st of St Peter iv 1 I have therefore considered it would be useful to exhort myself in the first place and then my Brethren highly to esteem the Art of dying Well And if there be any who as yet have not acquired this Art from other learned teachers I trust they will not despise at least those Precepts which I have endeavoured to collect from Holy Writ and the Ancient Fathers     Dying Well John Wyatt,2018-06-21 We cannot choreograph our own death but we can die well This is a book for those who are facing death It is also for their relatives friends and carers John Wyatt looks at recent trends in dying He examines the art of dying a Christian tradition from the past We see opportunities for dying well and faithfully real world examples of personal growth and instances of reconciliation and personal healing in relationships On the other hand there are also challenges to face the fears and temptations that dying can bring We learn from Jesus example as we focus on his words from the cross The wonderful news is that we can look forward to a sure and steadfast hope the amazing hope of resurrection and its implications for our lives today     The Art of Dying Well Saint Roberto Francesco Romolo Bellarmino,1850     The Art of Dying Well Ian M.
