Agee, 2016-03-21 A radical re evaluation of American modernism The importance of American artists in the history of modern art is well known and well documented from Jackson Pollock to Mark Rothko and Andy Warhol However the work of such artists did not spontaneously appear after World War II nor was it simply transplanted from Europe There is a longer subtler history of the development of modernism in relation to American artists as well as teachers patrons and collectors which can be traced through the first half of the twentieth century William C Agee s analysis includes artists working in the first half of the century such as Arthur Dove Stuart Davis Charles Demuth Marsden Hartley Georgia O Keeffe and John Marin as well as a discussion of the continuity between this period and the artists who went on to become celebrated internationally such as Arshile Gorky Edward Hopper Helen Frankenthaler Willem de Kooning Morris Louis Robert Rauschenberg Jasper Johns and Donald Judd Agee also integrates the work of certain European artists who became central to modern American art Paul C zanne Henri Matisse Marcel Duchamp and Piet Mondrian as well as Josef Albers and Hans Hofmann became influential teachers and eventually American citizens impacting strongly on the likes of Stuart Davis and many others who have not necessarily been compared or connected to the European art canon previously As a radical re evaluation of art history from the early twentieth century to the late 1960s this brilliant new account of American modernism is a must read for students and scholars of art as well as all those interested in modernism and its wider cultural history American Art Since 1900 Barbara Rose, 1975 Discusses the 1913 Armory Show the 1920s a period of provincial Cubism the 1930s of the American Scene painters and the WPA projects Examines the 1940s Abstract Expressionists including Gorky Pollock and de Kooning Examines pop and op art and the work of Jasper Johns and Frank Stella Presents American sculpture from the works of Lachaise and Smith and Oldenburg and the conceptual works of Richard Serra and Sol LeWitt American Art John Wilmerding, 1976 American Art Annual, 1918 American Art Directory Florence Nightingale Levy, 1917 The American Art Review, 1880 American Modern: Hopper to O'Keeffe Esther Adler, Kathy Curry, 2013-08-11 The Museum of Modern Art is known for its prescient focus on the avant garde art of Europe but in the first half of the twentieth century it was also acquiring work by Stuart Davis Georgia O Keeffe Charles Sheeler Alfred Stieglitz and other less well known American artists whose work sometimes fits awkwardly under the avant garde umbrella American Modern presents a fresh look at MoMA s holdings of American art from that period The still lifes portraits and urban rural and industrial landscapes vary in style approach and medium melancholy images by Edward Hopper and Andrew Wyeth bump against the eccentric landscapes of Charles Burchfield and the Jazz Age sculpture of Elie Nadelman Yet a distinct sensibility emerges revealing a side of the Museum that may surprise a good part of its audience and throwing light on the cultural preoccupations of the rapidly changing American society of the day Since '45 Katy Siegel,2013-06-01 Since 45 details the collision of American history and modern art Since World War II New York has been the indisputable center of the art world and as Katy Siegel shows it has had a profound influence on the preoccupations that contemporary art would come to have Tracing art history over the past decades she shows how anxieties over race mass culture the individual suburbia apocalypse and nuclear destruction have supplanted the legacy of European artistic traditions Siegel's study encompasses a variety of works including Rothko's planes of color Warhol's serial silkscreens Richard Prince's cowboys Robert Longo's Men in Cities Faith Ringgold's Black Light and Laurie Simmons's dollhouses and moves fluidly from discussions of artists' works art museums and galleries to cultural influences and significant historical events Rather than arguing on nationalist grounds or viewing American culture as representative of a now devalued nation Siegel explores how American culture dominated not only American artists but created conditions that now after the full globalization of the art world affect artists around the world Since 45 will interest all readers engaged in post war and contemporary art in the United States and beyond Biographical Sketches of American Artists Michigan State Library,1924 Modern American Painters Samuel Melvin Kootz,1930
