Each of the volume's 23 chapters is a canonical piece that will serve as a reference tool for the field. The Handbook provides readers with an unparalleled view of the current state of research on teaching across its multiple facets and related fields.

Getting By on the Minimum Jennifer Johnson, 2013-11-15 First published in 2002 Jennifer Johnson profiles the real life stories of more than sixty women who have no college education are married with kids and earn an average of 16 000 per year giving us an important window into a large poorly understood segment of our society. Through the words of these women Johnson captures the essence of women's working class experience from job stagnation low self esteem and social isolation to camaraderie among coworkers loyalty to one's roots and even pride in a job well done. This compassionately told book offers a captivating and emotional study of the difference class makes in women's lives as well as the problems restrictions and rewards common to all women.

On Becoming Responsible Michael S. Pritchard, 1991 Pritchard provides a deliberate and convincing argument for a starting point for the discussion of moral development on in which self regard and empathy provide equally essential groundings for individual morality. Drawing essential elements from the work of Reid Strawson Rawls Kohlberg and Gilligan he builds a comprehensive framework for tracing moral development from childhood one that allows human morality to be grounded in both reason and emotion and that recognizes the importance to morality of justice and rights as well as caring and responsibility.
