

Hold on tight to your dreams though in the struggle it may seem Your dreams are sifting from your hands like beaten rock that's turned to sand Still hold your dreams deep in your heart where from the world they're set apart Hidden within the cell of will where no one's hand can touch or steal.

infections COVID 19 This book provides an unparalleled description of current practices to enhance readers knowledge and practice skills     The Styles of Poetry Anwer Ghani,2019-01-29 We are now in front of many facts about the beautiful artistic writing First In the last twenty years the writing beautifulness and artistry in our awareness have been transmitted from the aesthetic view into the expressive view Now the creative people concern with feeling expression more than the aesthetic applications Second We can differentiate three eras of stylistic approaches about the beautifulness and artistry in the writing the pre modernism which concerns with power of the meaning connection the modernism which concerns with aesthetic of the writing and the post modernism the present era which concerns with powerful feeling expression Third In our globalisation and post globalisation era there is a powerful feeling and practice of free writing which doesn t or shouldn t observe the rules the laws or the traditions in the beautiful writing the literature even the genre Fourth Now we are in front of new literary writing which doesn t fit or doesn t want to follow any genre classification it is a non generic or trans generic writing Five In this very free seeking era why we need to study the stylistic elements of the present artistic writing and its law I will answer the last question first and the other points I will deal with through the chapters of the book In fact the human is a very selective creature and always seeking the better and appreciate the best and imitate it this is a point In other aspect the deep humanistic instinctual recognition or experience despite its truthfulness it is vague and can t exit from the primary view for the world things while the soul is a very complex and a highly knowing creature and can t satisfied by the primary instinctual experience so it needs the intellectual experience and analysis to reach its goals in everything not just in aesthetic and beauty In the process of the analysis the intellectual recognition and the systematic differentiation of our experiences about the beautiful writing we don t add or invent something not present in the text or in the writing or we put some elements which they are strange to the instinctual experience but in fact the intellectual analysis of the beautiful writing is a thorough analysis of the instinctual experience Yes our intellectual experience is always an analysis of our instinctual experience So this book is a collection of intellectual analysis of the instinctual experiences in different aspects of the beautiful writing So I won t find a new thing but I will try to show what is present I believe absolutely that the mind can t find anything but just a tool to explain what the instinct knows and experiences The mind knows nothing new but shows us what we know     *A dictionary of lowland Scotch, with an intr. chapter on the poetry, humour, and literary history of the Scottish language, and an appendix of Scottish proverbs.
