The Search for the "Manchurian Candidate" John Marks, 1978 Here is the extraordinary story of how the Central Intelligence Agency waged a careful and systematic assault on the human psyche John Marks reveals what was perhaps the most sinister activity ever engaged in by an organ of the United States government He describes how the government conducted a series of secret programs to find ways to control human behavior More than a spy story John Marks has both documented a major portion of the concealed history of our time and spelled out the tragic costs of secrecy and lack of accountability to the democratic system The Manchurian Candidate George Axelrod, John Frankenheimer, 2002 A US Army platoon captured in the Korean conflict is whisked to Manchuria for three nightmarish days of experimental drug and hypnosis induced conditioning that transform one of them into a human time bomb The Cold War on Film Paul Frazier, 2021-07-12 The Cold War on Film illustrates how to use film as a teaching tool It stands on its own as an account of both the war and the major films that have depicted it Memories of the Cold War have often been shaped by the popular films that depict it for example The Manchurian Candidate The Hunt for Red October and Charlie Wilson's War among others The Cold War on Film examines how the Cold War has been portrayed through a selection of 10 iconic films that represent it through dramatization and storytelling as opposed to through documentary footage. The book includes an introduction to the war's history and a timeline of events. Each of the 10 chapters that follow focuses on a specific Cold War film. Chapters offer a uniquely detailed level of historical context for the films, weighing their depiction of events against the historical record and evaluating how well or how poorly those films reflected the truth and shaped public memory and discourse over the war. A comprehensive annotated bibliography of print and electronic sources aids students and teachers in further research.

Ronald Reagan The Movie Michael Rogin, 1988-07-15 The fear of the subversive has governed American politics from the racial conflicts of the early republic to the Hollywood anti-Communism of Ronald Reagan. Political monsters, the Indian cannibal, the black rapist, the demon, the bomb-throwing anarchist, the many tentacled Communist conspiracy, the agents of international terrorism are familiar figures in the dream life that so often dominates American political consciousness. What are the meanings and sources of these demons? Why does the American political imagination conjure them up? Michael Rogin answers these questions by examining the American countersubversive tradition. The Search for the "Manchurian Candidate" John D. Marks, 1988

A Little Solitaire Murray Pomerance, R. Barton Palmer, 2011 Think about some commercially successful film masterpieces: The Manchurian Candidate, Seven Days in May, Seconds. Then consider some lesser known yet equally compelling cinematic achievements: The Fixer, The Gypsy Moths, Path to War. These triumphs are the work of the best known and most highly regarded Hollywood director to emerge from live TV drama in the 1950s: five-time Emmy award winner John Frankenheimer. Although Frankenheimer was a pioneer in the genre of political thrillers who embraced the antimodernist critique of contemporary society, some of his later films did not receive the attention they deserved. Many claimed that at a midpoint in his career he had lost his touch. World renowned film scholars put this myth to rest in A Little Solitaire, which offers the only multidisciplinary critical account of Frankenheimer's oeuvre. Especially emphasized is his deep and passionate engagement with national politics and the irrepressible need of human beings to assert their rights and individuality in the face of organizations that would reduce them to silence and anonymity. The Manchurian Candidate, 2004

The Manchurian Candidate, Directed by Jonathan Demme, 2004 The Manchurian Candidate George Axelrod, 1962 Reelpolitik II Beverly Merrill Kelley, 2004 With reference to eight classic American movies this text explores the political ideologies thrumming through the American psyche during the Cold War period.

Cinematic Cold War Tony Shaw, Denise Jeanne Youngblood, 2010 The first book length survey of cinema's vital role in the Cold War cultural combat between the US and the USSR. Focuses on 10 films: five American and five Soviet, both iconic and lesser known works showing that cinema provided a crucial outlet for the global debate between democratic and communist ideologies. The Manchurian Candidate, Etc Richard Thomas CONDON, 1962
