New Transatlantic Economy

Wilfred John Ethier,Arye L. Hillman

New Transatlantic Economy:

The New Transatlantic Economy Matthew Canzoneri, Wilfred Ethier, Vittorio Grilli, 1996-11-07 Transatlantic economic relations are dominated by three factors which are of major historical significance. The first and most important is the multilateral process for trade liberalisation, deregulation of financial markets and macroeconomic policy coordination. The second factor is a transatlantic environment of national and regional idiosyncrasies exemplified by protectionist initiatives, a significant weakening of the EMS and changes in central bank statutes. The third factor is in part a political backlash against the first. The third factor affecting transatlantic economic relations is of course the emergence of regional economic relationships within the transatlantic economy and a treaty calling for a common currency in Europe. In this 1996 volume specialists in international trade, international finance and political economy analyse the causes of these three factors and their implications.

Mega-regionalism and Great Power Geo-economic Competition Xianbai Ji, 2021-09-22 The regional trade governance architecture is in flux. The latest wave of regionalism in the form of mega regional trade partnerships between countries with major shares of the world economy occurred in the aftermath of the Global Financial Crisis of 2008-09. The most systematically important mega FTAs included the Trans Pacific Partnership led by the United States, US, the China backed Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership and the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership between the European Union, EU and the US. Drawing on policy diffusion and competitive regionalism literatures, Xianbai Ji develops an innovative model of competitive spill over to uncover the historical and contemporary sources of mega regionalism resulting from a temporal clustering of mega FTA initiatives from great powers. In the book, mega FTA is conceptualised as an instrument of geo economic competition between the US, China and the EU. Each aspired to leverage its mega FTA to gain an edge over its rivals in economic, geopolitical and legal terms. Through a mix method research strategy involving computable general equilibrium modelling, game theory, desk research and perception survey, Ji generates an impressive chorus of quantitative, qualitative and perceptual data demonstrating that the rise of mega regionalism was driven by the multidimensional competition between the US, China and the EU over international economic benefits, geopolitical influence and the authority to write rules governing emerging trade issues. This book will attract academics, think tankers, practitioners and postgraduate students interested in regionalism, international trade, international political economy, applied trade policy analysis, great power competition, geo economics and international relations.

Transatlantic Governance in the Global Economy Mark A. Pollack, Gregory C. Shaffer, 2001-05-23 This important book examines transatlantic economic relations in the 1990s and in particular efforts by the United States and the European Union to establish new forms of governance to cope with increasing economic interdependence. The authors explain the development of transatlantic cooperation culminating in the multi leveled governance mechanisms of the New Transatlantic Agenda. They assess as well central questions about the nature of transatlantic governance as reflected in competing international relations theories of intergovernmental transgovernmental technocratic and transnational civil society relations Bringing together leading scholars from political science and law the book provides a rich mix of analytic and normative perspectives that will be an invaluable resource for scholars students and policymakers alike Economic Decisions of the Civil Aeronautics Board United States.
