Hinson,Doreen Anyamesem Odame,Eric Kwame Adae,Kwame Adom,2023-10-31 This book explores the issues around small business and entrepreneurial activities in Africa within the context of frequent collapse of businesses seizures by governments, lack of access to capital and raw materials as well as the reliance on the informal sector. All these issues the Editors argue have been exacerbated by the advent of the COVID 19 pandemic. However, entrepreneurship must be at the heart of efforts to transform Africa's economic prospects to ensure sustained economic growth and decent work for all. In looking at the development of entrepreneurship for Africa's growth contributors to this edited collection take an evolutionary approach by focusing on entrepreneurial intentions where entrepreneurial ideas are formed customer management which is central to all entrepreneurial business success and by also focusing on local and entrepreneurial business development. The book then ends with a discussion around technological innovations in small business development in Africa. Covering topics such as social entrepreneurship, international joint ventures and the impact of digital platforms this conceptual path provides rich contemporary insights for students, researchers and policy makers and contributes to the achievement of SDG 8 targets.

Technology and Enterprise Development Sanjaya Lall, Giorgio Barba Navaretti, Simon Teitel, Ganeshan Wignaraja, 2016-07-27 The process of capability development is central to industrialization but the current literature focuses on the advanced developing countries. Reasons for the Slow Development of Entrepreneurship

Antoine Niyungeko,2020-11-26 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Economics Macro economics general language English abstract This paper analyses what may be the reasons for Africa and the Middle East seemingly lagging behind other world regions in terms of economic development It explains why entrepreneurship has been slow to develop in the region and gives suggestions for how it may be developed more assertively The problems that may constitute the reasons for lagging behind others may be inadequate education systems division and war or heavy administrative procedures Furthermore difficult access and high lending interest rates as well as colonialism consequences can be a reason Income or poverty in the regions may reduce the demand for goods and services support high corruption lead to low salaries and wages for states employees and insufficient savings for workers to begin new business Education in Africa is a heritage of the colonial system which did not intend to develop entrepreneurship in colonized countries Courses are dominated by modules that are not related to entrepreneurship but full of content like foreign literature like French and English or History Courses offered by universities are disconnected to labor market needs and new technologies Courses are full of theory without practical knowledge Professional courses are limited and graduates lack in practical knowledge Secondly African countries are not united Some of them have much diversity in culture religion and ethnics But instead of using the diversity to generate new ideas creativity and innovation the diversity is the basis of war in African countries No entrepreneur can engage seriously in a country at war Molem indicated Cameroon had linguistic and cultural diversity with more than 289 ethnic groups and a
