New Technologies In Animal Breeding:

New Technologies in Animal Breeding B G Brackett,2012-12-02 New Technologies in Animal Breeding looks at new reproductive technologies in breeding domestic animals such as sex selection frozen storage of oocytes and embryos in vitro fertilization and embryo culture amphibian nuclear transplantation parthenogenesis identical twins and cloning in mammals and gene transfer in mammalian cells It summarizes the state of the art and offers perspectives on future directions for several animal industries of great importance in food production including artificial insemination embryo transfer poultry breeding and aquaculture Organized into five sections encompassing 14 chapters this book begins with an overview of animals in society and perspectives on animal breeding It then discusses the animal industries that are heavily dependent on reproductive technology including those engaged in cloning selfing aquaculture artificial insemination and embryo transfer It also explains the developing technologies as well as their potential applications and impacts on animal production along with special economic considerations such as the benefits of reproductive management synchronization of estrus and artificial insemination of beef cattle and sheep The final chapter considers biomedical and agricultural research implementation of new technologies in animal breeding and research in animal reproduction This book is an essential reference for scientists and researchers interested in animal science and animal reproduction     Animal Breeding A. E. Clark,1998-08-18 This text part offers a review of the research and developing technologies in the expanding areas of genetics embryology and molecular biology from experts in the various fields It includes sections covering manipulation of the embryo and the mapping and engineering of the genome as well as information on nuclear transfer and the development of xenotransplantation Possibilities for future research and development are also considered

New Technologies in Animal Breeding Animal Breeding George E. Seidel,1981     Exploiting New Technologies in Animal Breeding Charles Smith,J. W. B. King,J. C. McKay,1986 Recent advances in the technology and techniques of genetic manipulation have caused an unprecedented expansion of possibilities for improvement in the breeding and development of livestock This volume provides an up to date summary of work being done in this field indicating how new discoveries can be integrated with established methods of breeding to create commercially competitive lines It also considers future possibilities in research and development and encourages researchers and graduate students in animal breeding livestock improvement molecular genetics and reproductive physiology to consider new research methods     New Technologies in Animal Breeding ,1981

Application of New Genetic Technologies to Animal Breeding Association for the Advancement of Animal Breeding and Genetics. Conference,2005 The Association for the Advancement of Animal Breeding and Genetics Inc is a professional organisation based in Australia and New Zealand for livestock scientists breeders educators students and industry service providers     New Technologies in Animal Breeding , Biotechnology in Animal Husbandry R. Renaville,A. Burny,2006-04-11 Animal biotechnology is a broad umbrella encompassing the polarities of fundamental and applied research including molecular modelling molecular and quantitative genetics gene manipulation development of diagnostics and vaccines and manipulation of tissue or digestion metabolism by growth promoters Although animal biotechnology in the broadest sense is not new what is new is the level of complexity and precision involved in scientists current ability to manipulate living organisms This new book sets out to show that the important ideas in animal biotechnology are exciting and relevant to everyday experience It represents an important update of the literature for research workers lecturers and advisers in animal science but is also a core text for advanced undergraduate courses in animal science and biotechnology It will be an essential acquisition for librarians in agriculture and veterinary science

Animal Biotechnology L.A. Babiuk,J.P. Phillips,Murray Moo-Young,2013-10-22 The advent of biotechnology has the potential to develop a variety of novel or better quality products for the treatment of a large number of diseases in livestock In addition as we understand more about the reproductive physiology of animals the potential exists to dramatically increase the productivity of animals through better therapeutics and diagnostics for the control of many infectious diseases Productivity can also be increased through animal breeding strategies including gene transfer micromanipulation of embryos and gamete sex selection As well as being a valuable reference to current knowledge in these areas this first supplement to Comprehensive Biotechnology also looks at societal concerns over the use of antibiotics and chemical residues in meat and milk products which are forcing biotechnologists to investigate more natural means of controlling infection by stimulating the animal s own immune system to combat infection The identification of a variety of cytokines which are involved in regulating immune responses provides opportunities to use the animal s natural defence mechanisms to combat many infections or increase the animal s resistance to such infections These approaches should provide tools for eventual elimination of specific diseases from counties regions or whole continents
