New Theatre Quarterly 50:

New Theatre Quarterly 50: Volume 13, Part 2 Clive Barker, Simon Trussler, 1997-08-21 Provides an international forum where theatrical scholarship and practice can meet to question dramatic assumptions Edward Bond Michael Mangan, 1998 This study examines Edward Bond's work from The Pope's Wedding 1962 to Coffee 1995 giving an overview of the development of his distinctive dramatic language and style while looking at his experiments with various theatrical forms and genres

Training Actors' Voices Tara McAllister-Viel, 2018-08-06 Contemporary actor training in the US and UK has become increasingly multicultural and multilingual. Border crossing cross cultural exchange in contemporary theatre practices and the rise of the intercultural actor has meant that actor training today has been shaped by multiple modes of training and differing worldviews. How might mainstream Anglo American voice training for actors address the needs of students who bring multiple worldviews into the training studio? When several vocal training traditions are learned simultaneously how does this shift the way actors think talk and perform? How does this change the way actors understand what a voice is? What it can should do? How it can should do it? Using adaptations of a traditional Korean vocal art p'ansori with adaptations of the natural or free voice approach Tara McAllister Viel offers an alternative approach to training actors' voices by re-considering the materials of training: breath, sound, presence and text. This work contributes to ongoing discussions about the future of voice pedagogy in theatre for those practitioners and scholars interested in performance studies, ethnomusicology, voice studies and intercultural theories and practices

Shakespeare and Feminist Performance Sarah Werner, 2005-07-08 How do performances of Shakespeare change the meanings of the plays? In this controversial new book Sarah Werner argues that the text of a Shakespeare play is only one of the many factors that give a performance its meaning. By focusing on The Royal Shakespeare Company Werner demonstrates how actor training, company management and gender politics fundamentally affect both how a production is created and the interpretations it can suggest. Werner concentrates particularly on The influential training methods of Cicely Berry and Patsy Rodenburg. The history of the RSC Women's Group, Gale Edwards' production of The Taming of the Shrew. She reveals that no performance of Shakespeare is able to bring the plays to life or to realise the playwright's intentions without shaping them to mirror our own assumptions. By examining the ideological implications of performance practices this book will help all interested in Shakespeare's plays to explore what it means to study them in performance

Voice and New Writing, 1997-2007 M. Inchley, 2015-03-14 In New Labour's empathetic regime how did diverse voices scrutinise its etiquettes of articulation and audibility? Using the voice as cultural evidence Voice and New Writing explores what it means to have a voice in mainstream theatre and for newly included voices to negotiate with the institutions that find and represent their identities
