William Insall,1972    Concerning Buildings Stephen Marks,1996 Concerning Buildings has been prepared in honour of Sir Bernard Feilden CBE a leading and outstanding practitioner in the field of the conservation and repair of historic buildings for forty years or more having originally studied architecture as a mature student at the Architectural Association after the Second World War he was born in 1919 The book was not however intended to be about him except for a warm tribute written by Professor Patrick Nuttgens and a full bibliography of his works compiled by Keith Parker its purpose rather is to cover a co ordinated and wide range of conservation issues theoretical and practical and to be regarded as a reference work for our position and our achievements in the art of conservation today The book contains a wealth of interest and a mine of information for all who are concerned about the present state and approaches to the conservation of buildings in all parts of the world It will be especially useful to those who teach those who want to learn those who own and manage old buildings and those whose job it is to look after them    New Construction for Older Buildings Peter H. Smeallie,Peter H. Smith,1990

As a result of the historic preservation movement the addition of new construction to existing architecture is no longer limited to historic or significant buildings This design sourcebook conveys existing attitudes and interesting ideas regarding the combining of old and new architecture and covers the many practical issues architectural firms must consider Each of the three main sections addresses a specific approach to combining old and new architecture additions to buildings altering the original and new construction And each clearly shows that design decisions can and should combine a reasoned approach to the existing environment with the new demands of today Examples by architectural firms such as Roche Dinkeloo SOM Cambridge Seven Associates Geddes Brecher Qualls Cunningham and Paul Rudolph illustrate the wide range of responses to design decisions as well as their varying degrees of success    Urban Conservation and Historic Buildings Charles Mynors,Kensington and Chelsea (London, England),1984    Congressional Record United States.
