Critical Architecture Jane Rendell, Jonathan Hill, Mark Dorrian, Murray Fraser, 2007-09-12 Critical Architecture examines the relationship between critical practice in architecture and architectural criticism Placing architecture in an interdisciplinary context the book explores architectural criticism with reference to modes of criticism in other disciplines specifically art criticism and considers how critical practice in architecture operates through a number of different modes buildings drawings and texts With forty essays by an international cast of leading architectural academics this accessible single source text on the topical subject of architectural criticism is ideal for undergraduate as well as post graduate study

Elegance Ali Rahim, Hina Jamelle, 2007-03-23 Elegance represents an important watershed in architectural design Since the onset of computer driven technologies innovative designers have almost exclusively been preoccupied with the pursuit of digital techniques This issue of AD extrapolates current design tendencies and brings them together to present a new type of architecture one that is seamlessly trying processes space structure and material together with beauty Elegance here is cast with a new contemporary meaning as it is applied to work that is effortlessly complex It is analogous to an elegant algorithm that uses a small amount of initiative code to great effect In a structure elegance may be expressed by a complex surface that retains its continuity and integrity even when punctured In many ways Elegance marks a coming of age for digital architecture as architects become more adept at producing complexity and integrating digital design technologies production and assembly systems producing elegant solutions It is the potent finesse that is often associated with the work of Zaha Hadid Architects and other featured architects such as Mark Goulthorpe of Decoi and Hani Rashid of Asymptote

Landscape Michael Spens, 2007-04-23 Charting the latest advances in thinking and practice in 21st century landscape this edition of AD looks at the degree to which landscape architects and architects have rethought and redefined the parameters for the interaction of buildings infrastructures and surrounding landscape Landscape Architecture Site Non Site defines the key moves affected in the revision of landscape using a compilation of some of the most current work in the field Featured designers include James Corner of Field Operations Kathryn Findlay Adriaan Geuze of West 8 Gross Max Bernard Lassus Gustafson Porter Maggie Ruddick Ken Smith and Michael van Valkenburgh There are contributions from Lucy Bullivant Peter Cook Jayne Merkel Juhan Pallasmaa and Grahame Shane Many Voices Sara Caples, Everardo Jefferson, 2022-12-03 Do you know how to create beautiful buildings that truly promote social change Architects need to understand how to design for social equity but too often this is presented as a choice between work that does good and work that looks good When done well building for social equity can directly enhance the formal experimental and creative language of architecture Renowned architects Sara Caples and Everardo Jefferson who have been designing for underserved multi cultural communities in New York for decades provide thought leadership that is deeply rooted in practice By urging architects to approach equity projects with an open mind the volume highlights the need to dig deep into the diverse culture of local neighbourhoods It provides techniques to encourage listening communicating and fully engaging with users resulting in imaginative design responses that draw on all the tools that the architect possesses Packed with interviews from established and up and coming designers and highly illustrated case studies from all over the world this accessibly written book serves both as a point of inspiration and a challenge to Western centric ways of working Ultimately it explores how listening to the aspirations of diverse communities enriches designs and broadens the architectural language of all involved Featuring International case studies from Austria Brazil Bolivia China Egypt India USA and many more Interviews from leading designers including Tatiana Bilbao Wanda Dalla Costa Andres Lepik Xu Tiantian Li Xiaodong Sara Zewde Guidance on a range of topics from integrating narratives to working with colour communicating with communities and stakeholders to ethical practice Manmade Modular Megastructures Ian Abley, Jonathan Schwinge, 2006-04-07 There will be 8.3 billion human beings on Earth by 2030 and the more the better We have the opportunity to create a world of expansive megacities including one around old London Doing so will advance the art science and processes of manufacturing But to deploy those abilities we must shrug off the dogma of sustainability that insists only small can be beautiful Humanity has come a long way since the first modular mega structure was built at Ur on land that is now Iraq There four millennia ago and by hand the Sumerians built a mud brick ziggurat to their Gods Today the green deities of Nature we have invented for ourselves are worshipped with humility Eco zealots argue against the mechanised megaforming of landscape and the modularised production of megastructures The guest editors Jonathan Schwinge and Ian Abley of the London based research organisation audacity call for development on a bold scale They argue that by rapidly super sizing the built environment society is not made vulnerable to natural or man made hazards and that design innovation surpasses bio mimicry Designers can learn from materials scientists working at the smallest of scales and from systems manufacturers with ambitions at the largest This issue calls for creative thinking about typologies and topologies and considers what that also means for Africa China and Russia Megacities everywhere demand integration of global systems of transport utilities and IT in gigantic structures constantly upgraded scraping both the sky and the ground outward into the sea Cycling Suburban Steven J.
