Prevention, Committee on Capitalizing on Social Science and Behavioral Research to Improve the Public's Health, 2000-02-01 At the dawn of the twenty first century Americans enjoyed better overall health than at any other time in the nation's history Rapid advancements in medical technologies breakthroughs in understanding the genetic underpinnings of health and ill health improvements in the effectiveness and variety of pharmaceuticals and other developments in biomedical research have helped develop cures for many illnesses and improve the lives of those with chronic diseases By itself however biomedical research cannot address the most significant challenges to improving public health Approximately half of all causes of mortality in the United States are linked to social and behavioral factors such as smoking diet alcohol use sedentary lifestyle and accidents Yet less than five percent of the money spent annually on U S health care is devoted to reducing the risks of these preventable conditions Behavioral and social interventions offer great promise but as yet their potential has been relatively poorly tapped Promoting Health identifies those promising areas of social science and behavioral research that may address public health needs It includes 12 papers commissioned from some of the nation's leading experts that review these issues in detail and serves to assess whether the knowledge base of social and behavioral interventions has been useful or could be useful in the development of broader public health interventions    Handbook of Research in Emotional and Behavioral Disorders Robert Bruce Rutherford, Mary M. Adolescent Risk Behavior and Self-Regulation Franz Resch, Peter Parzer, 2021-04-12 This book is based on the idea that increasing juvenile risk behaviours like substance abuse nonsuicidal self injury and antisocial or suicidal behaviour allow adolescents to fulfill developmental tasks like identity formation and regulation of self worth Narcissistic self exploitation mobility tasks flexibility and the challenges of new media exert social pressure on parental figures distracting and putting strain on their mental resources which in turn changes and even destroys the emotional dialogue with their offspring If children themselves experience neglect and lack of emotional bonding resulting in a lack of self regulating capacities risk behaviours are the consequence The book combines different views in the psychological social and metatheoretical domains It consists of three parts developmental problems of young people diagnosis of risk behaviours in the nosological framework and presentation of new morbidity with an increase in symptom prevalence The book also discusses the threat of the acceleration of social processes and the risks of postmodern society
