Morris Lapidus:

Morris Lapidus Deborah Desilets, 2010 Adored for his exuberant and original architecture more than fifty years of Morris Lapidus's designs are celebrated in this first ever monograph. Known for inventing the postwar resort hotel with the Fontainebleau and the Eden Roc in Miami Beach, Morris Lapidus (1902-2001) is revered for his joyful interpretation of modernist tenets through an American vernacular of spectacle and whimsy. Lapidus enthusiastically embraced modernism's formal freedom and sensuality while rejecting its more rigid principles, producing a unique style that seamlessly blends baroque fantasia with modernism's clean lines and flowing spaces. His exuberant curving walls, zigzagging facades, and deft manipulation of space created dramatic forms that transform the moods of their occupants. In 2000, Lapidus was honored by the Cooper Hewitt as an American Original, an award created especially for him. This comprehensive volume presents the highlights of Lapidus's extraordinary career. From seductive modern shops and private residences to iconic hotels and residential towers in New York, Miami Beach, the Caribbean, and beyond, this iconoclast proves that too much is never enough.

Product Description Morris Lapidus Deborah Desilets, 2004 Morris Lapidus, the famous mid-century architect, outraged the architectural profession and riled critics with an architecture that was popularly embraced. His Miami Beach resort hotels, the Fontainebleau, the Eden Roc, and the Bal Harbour Sheraton, are synonymous with the glamour of Miami Beach in the 1950s. Lapidus's hotels are infamous as the stomping grounds of the Rat Pack and their fellow movie stars. Yet during his life, he was never published in architectural magazines and was discredited by the architectural profession before undergoing a renaissance as a prophet of postmodernism. This book establishes the importance of his work and offers private insights into a man who once said, "why be exotic in private?"

Too Much is Never Enough Morris Lapidus, 1996 American architect Morris Lapidus is best known as the designer of glamorous postwar resort hotels in Florida, such as the Fontainebleau (1954) and the Eden Roc (1955) in Miami Beach, and the Americana in Bal Harbour (1956). Yet in a remarkable sixty-year career that began in 1926, he designed more than 500 retail stores, hotels, apartment complexes, and stage sets that captured the popular spirit and changing face of Main Street America in the twentieth century. Lapidus created fantasy environments in which America's middle class, flush with expanding postwar incomes and optimism, could fulfill its desire for glamor, relaxed luxury, and leisure. His signature forms—chevrons, beanpoles, wiggles, or amoeba shapes—and curving walls and ceilings, punctuated by cheese holes or cutouts, have become treasured icons of American postwar vernacular architecture. Born in Russia in 1902, Lapidus was brought to New York by his parents a year later, and the family first settled on the Lower East Side. He completed his architecture degree at Columbia University and first earned a reputation by designing stage sets and retail stores in which he developed new theories in store design and essentially created the modern storefront as we now know it. For his famed resort hotels of the 1950s, Lapidus designed not only the vast structures but a melange of quasi-French provincial and Italian Renaissance decorative elements that critics would dub

Miami Beach French including everything from the tableware to his famous stairways to nowhere He was one of the first architects to acknowledge the cinema as an overriding influence on American taste Morris Lapidus Martina Düttmann, Friederike Schneider, 1992 The Work of Architect-designer Morris Lapidus Morris Lapidus, 1950* 40 Years of Art and Architecture, Morris Lapidus Morris Lapidus, August L.
