CHAPTER FOURTEEN CALL 911

"Oh my God, they're playing Christmas songs on the radio already! I'm gonna need two baskets of Robert's mushrooms and some cold beer tonight," Steven Sawyer said right out loud to himself as he drove his pickup truck through the south end of Hutchinson. "It will be turkey for days on end soon, so I better get me some catfish too."

Steven Sawyer rolled up to the House of Suds in South Hutch like he normally did a few times a week, but this time, something was off. As Sam walked up to the front door, he saw Joe Miller's work truck parked diagonally in front of the bar, but there was something about Miller's truck that was off-kilter. As he approached, he figured it out. The truck was on but not running. He could hear the radio and a buzzer, maybe the seat belt buzzer, and the lights were on, but the engine was not running. And . . . Joe Miller was not sitting at the wheel.

As Sam got a little closer, he saw that Miller was, in fact, sitting at the wheel, but he was slumped over to his right, lying across the console that separated the bucket seats of the Dodge truck.

Steven was trying to come up with a funny little line. "Did you drop your Girl Scout cookies, Joe?" or some such operator

Three Late Medieval Morality Plays: Everyman, Mankind and Mundus et Infans G.A. Lester, 2014-05-29 Take example all ye that this do hear or see The Morality Play was popular in England between 1400 and 1600 It offers moral instruction and spiritual teaching with personal abstractions representing good and evil Surviving plays from that period number about sixty and the three in this edition were among the first ten Mankind is a plain honest farming man who struggles against worldly and spiritual temptation The bawdy humour and violent action in the play serve to make the moral point and instruct by example Everyman portrays a man's struggles in the face of death to raise himself to a state of grace so that he may experience everlasting life It is exceptional among the Moralities for this narrow focus on the last phase of life and conveys its message with awe inspiring seriousness Mundus et Infans is more typical of the Morality genre It shows an arrogant bullying protagonist led astray by a single evildoer into a life of debauchery before the inevitable conversion to virtue In showing the whole of man's life it is the antithesis of Everyman the action of which seems to take place in a single day
