Mandelstam, David Campbell, Natalie Staples, 1975 Classics for the Masses Pauline Fairclough, 2016-01-01 Musicologist

Pauline Fairclough explores the evolving role of music in shaping the cultural identity of the Soviet Union in a revelatory work that counters certain hitherto accepted views of an unbending unchanging state policy of repression censorship and dissonance that existed in all areas of Soviet artistic endeavor Newly opened archives from the Leninist and Stalinist eras have shed new light on Soviet concert life demonstrating how the music of the past was used to help mold and deliver cultural policy how undesirable repertoire was weeded out during the 1920s and how Russian and non Russian composers such as Mozart Tchaikovsky Wagner Bach and Rachmaninov were canonized during different distinct periods in Stalinist culture Fairclough's fascinating study of the ever shifting Soviet musical political landscape identifies 1937 as the start of a cultural Cold War rather than occurring post World War Two as is often maintained while documenting the efforts of musicians and bureaucrats during this period to keep musical channels open between Russia and the West

English

Accents Christiana Payne, 2018-01-18 In the century following the foundation of the Royal Academy in 1768 British art had an international reputation prints spread knowledge of the work of British artists around the globe and it was widely seen as the product of a modern commercial society and much admired by artists as diverse as Goya in Spain Delacroix in France and Bierstadt in America In recent years scholars working on this period have become increasingly aware of the international context of their subject but there has been no systematic analysis of the reception of British art abroad This collection of essays looks at the uses made of the paintings of Reynolds Hogarth Lawrence and their contemporaries on the continent of Europe and in the colonies and ex colonies of Australia and America The authors go beyond the simple issue of influence to consider how ideas and artistic conventions originating in the British Isles were adapted appropriated or resisted in these new environments In the process some surprising views of British art emerge demonstrating how a multi faceted view from the outside can correct and enrich the narrative produced within a national school and revealing some of the important connections that are obscured when art is studied as it so often is within narrow national boundaries

Reflections on Stalinism J. Arch Getty, Lewis H. Siegelbaum, 2024-06-15 Reflections on Stalinism distills decades of historical thought and research bringing together twelve senior scholars of Soviet history who began their careers during the Cold War to examine their views of Stalinism They present insights into the role of personality in statecraft the social underpinnings of dictatorship and state terrorism historians attachments to their subjects historical causality the applicability of Marxist categories to Soviet history the relationship of Soviet history to post Soviet Russia and more Essays address the transformation of a peasant country into a superpower and the causes and scale of domestic bloodshed. Reflections on Stalinism ultimately tackles an age old question Do powerful people make history or are they the product of it From Realism to the Silver Age Margaret Samu, 2014-06-01 This volume of thirteen essays presents rigorous new research by western and Russian scholars on Russian art of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Over More than three decades after the publication of Elizabeth Valkenier's pioneering monograph Russian Realist Art this impressive collection showcases the latest methodology and subjects of inquiry expanding the parameters of what has become an area of enormous intellectual and popular appeal. Major artists including Ilia Repin, Valentin Serov and Wassily Kandinsky are considered afresh as are the Peredvizhnik and Mir iskusstva movements and the Abramtsevo community. The book also breaks new ground to embrace subjects such as Russian graphic satire and children's book illustration as well as stimulating aspects of patronage and display. Collectively the essays include a range of approaches from close textual readings to institutional critique. They also develop major themes inspired by Valkenier's work among them the emergence and evolution of cultural institutions, the development of aesthetic discourse and artistic terminology, debates between the Academy of Arts and its challengers, art criticism and the Russian press and the resonance of various forms of nationalism within the art world. These and other questions engage multiple disciplines those of art history, Slavic Russian studies and cultural history among others and promise to fuel a vibrant and ascendant field.

Waiting for the Muse: Poems of Anna Akhmatova Frances Laird, 2021-09-14 Waiting for the Muse Poems of Anna Akhmatova presents new translations of the work of this great Russian poet set in the context of her life. Akhmatova saw the source of her creativity as the appearance to her of the Muse the embodiment of poetic inspiration. In the poems written over her lifetime from the early love lyrics to poems of resistance during the Stalinist Terror to poems of remembrance as her life neared its end her conception of the Muse changed with the circumstances of her life. The Muse first appeared as an unpredictable young woman then the classical figure of Erato then a woman who stood beside her in the prison lines then a cruel taskmaster. Akhmatova herself became the Muse for other Russian poets. Ultimately Akhmatova concluded that the Muse may have been the torment she had been forced to suffer.

Russian Writers of the Silver Age, 1890-1925 Judith E. Kalb, J. Alexander Ogden, I. G. Vishnevetskiy, 2004 The questing, experimenting and overstepping of stylistic, moral and narrowly rational boundaries that characterized Russian modernist writing were frowned upon during most of the seven decades of Soviet rule. Only since the late 1980s have readers had easy access to the literature, memoirs and critical writings of the immediately pre-Soviet period.
