Carolee Schneemann. More than meat Joy. Performance works and selected writings, More Than Meat Joy Carolee Schneemann, 1979 The Concrete Body Elise Archias, 2016-11-29 Offering an incisive rejoinder to traditional histories of modernism and postmodernism this original book examines the 1960s performance work of three New York artists who adapted modernist approaches to form for the medium of the human body Finding parallels between the tactility of a drip of paint and a body's reflexive movements Elise Archias argues convincingly that Yvonne Rainer b 1934 Carolee Schneemann b 1939 and Vito Acconci b 1940 forged a dialogue between modernist aesthetics and their own artistic community's embrace of all things ordinary through work that explored the abstraction born of the body's materiality Rainer's task-like dances Schneemann's sensuous appropriations of popular entertainment and Acconci's behaviorist inflected tests highlight the body's unintended movements as vital reminders of embodied struggle amid the constraining structures in contemporary culture Archias also draws compelling comparisons between embodiment as performed in the work of these three artists and in the sit-ins and other nonviolent protests of the era Carolee Schneemann Lotte Johnson, Chris Bayley, 2022-09-13 Traces the feminist icon Carolee Schneemann's prolific six-decade output spanning her remarkably diverse transgressive and interdisciplinary expression Carolee Schneemann 1939-2019 was one of the most experimental artists of the twentieth and early twenty-first centuries This book traces six decades of the feminist icon's diverse transgressive and interdisciplinary expression through Schneemann's experimental early paintings sculptural assemblages and kinetic works rarely seen photographs of her radical performances her pioneering films and groundbreaking multi-media installations Contributors shed new light on Schneemann's work which addressed urgent topics from sexual expression and the objectification of women to human suffering and the violence of war An artist who was concerned with the precarious lived experience of both humans and animals this book positions Schneemann as one of the most relevant provocative and inspiring artists in recent years Published in association with Barbican Art Gallery Exhibition Schedule Barbican Art Gallery London September 8-2022 January 8-2023 No More Masterpieces Lucy Bradnock, 2021-01-01 This groundbreaking account of postwar American art traces the profound influence of Antonin Artaud Proposing an original reassessment of art from the 1950s to the 1970s No More Masterpieces reveals how artistic practice in postwar America was profoundly shaped by the work of the rebellious French poet and dramatist Antonin Artaud 1896-1948 A generation of artists mobilized Artaud's countercultural ideas to imagine new forms of representation and to redefine the relationship between artist and audience The book shows how Artaud's radical writings inspired the experimental theatrical work of John Cage Rachel Rosenthal and Allan Kaprow the attack on artistic and social conventions launched by assemblage artists Wallace Berman and Bruce Conner and the feminist work of Carolee Schneemann and Nancy Spero Lucy Bradnock traces the dissemination of Artaud's writings in America and demonstrates how his interest in political and cultural disorder the dangers of authority and the unreliability of representation found fertile ground in the context of the Cold War disillusionment with the ideals of Abstract Expressionism and the early years of identity politics Artists Respond Melissa Ho, Thomas Crow, Erica Levin, Mignon Nixon, Martha Rosler, Smithsonian American Art Museum, 2019-04-02 Published in conjunction with the exhibition of the same name on view at the Smithsonian American Art Museum Washington DC March 15 2019 to August 18 2019 Repositionings Frederick Garber, 1995 The broad reconsideration of the nature of the self that has characterized our thinking for decades has affected not only our judgments of what we are but also the shapes of what we make The history of the lyric from the middle of the eighteenth century reveals a classic mode of thinking about these issues A sense of the wholeness and coherence of the self grounds our understanding of the nature of the lyric seen as the purest expression of just such a self With the decline of that sense of coherence comes not only an attack upon the traditional understanding of the lyric but also suggestions that other modes of art especially photography and performance may speak more cogently to our understandings of ourselves In Repositionings Frederick Garber examines recent readings of the lyric in proposing that performance art and photography present alternatives to traditional lyrical modes Garber examines among others the work of Mark Strand Gerald Stern Jerome Rothenberg David Antin Carolee Schneemann Steve McCaffrey Cindy Sherman and Barbara Kruger In probing the ways in which the changed relations of subjectivity and genre have shifted earlier readings of the hierarchies of the arts he brings an interdisciplinary perspective to the continuing debates on the nature and shape of the self Carolee Schneemann Carolee Schneemann, 2007 Text by Thomas McEvelley Jim Drobnick Caroline Koebel Artxpress , 1981
