Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library,1992 The Canadian Architect ,2004 二〇〇〇〇 ,2006 Water and Sacred Architecture Anat Geva,2023-05-25 This edited book examines architectural representations that tie water as a physical and symbolic property with the sacred The discussion centers on two levels of this relationship how water influenced the sacredness of buildings across history and different religions and how sacred architecture expressed the spiritual meaning of water The volume deliberately offers original material on various unique contextual and design aspects of water and sacred architecture rather than an attempt to produce a historic chronological analysis on the topic or focusing on a specific geographical region. As such this unique volume adds a new dimension to the study of sacred architecture. The book's chapters are compiled by a stellar group of scholars and practitioners from the US, Canada, Europe, Asia and Africa. It addresses major aspects of water in religious buildings such as rituals, pilgrimage, water as a cultural material and place making, hydro systems, modern practices, environmental considerations, the contribution of water to transforming secular into sacred and future digital cyber contexts of water and sacredness. All chapters are based on original archival studies, historical documents and field visits to the sites and buildings. These examinations show water as an expression of architectural design, its materiality and its spiritual values. The book will be of interest to architects, historians, environmentalists, archaeologists, religious scholars and preservationists.

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals Avery Library, 1997 Legacy of Stone Ronald F. Williamson, Robert I. MacDonald, Buffalo and Fort Erie Public Bridge Authority, 1998 Twelve Modern Houses, 1945-1985 Graham Livesey, University of Calgary. Canadian Architectural Archives, Michael McMordie, Geoffrey Simmins, 1995. This publication is part of the ongoing mandate of the Canadian Architectural Archives to examine the characteristics of Canadian architecture as reflected in the collections of the University of Calgary Library. It examines twelve architect-created houses designed between the 1940s and the 1980s from several distinct regions of Canada. The architects chosen number among the most prolific and best known in Canada who were working during this period, including Raymond T. Affleck, Raymond Moriyama, Arthur Erickson, Douglas Cardinal, John B. Parkin Associates and Patkau Architects. Other architects with perhaps a more regional reputation have also been included, such as the Vancouver-based firm of McCarter Nairne, Calgary's Jack Long and Edmonton's Peter Hemingway. Apart from the documentation of the twelve houses, drawings and photos, there are interpretative essays on each. A co-authored introductory essay explores several related themes: modernity, the contemporary house, approaches to landscape and the role of drawings in contemporary practice.

A Concise History of Canadian Architecture Harold Kalman, 2000. In this monumental two-volume set, the first comprehensive study of Canadian architecture, Harold Kalman presents a rich panorama treating the vast range of Canadian building from the native peoples and first settlers to the recent past to the present day. He describes the country's architectural history in a lucid and engaging narrative, placing the buildings firmly in a social and cultural context to illuminate distinct characteristics of Canadian architects and architecture. Lavishly illustrated with over eight hundred black and white drawings and photographs, this work will be an essential reference for anyone interested in architectural history.
