Writing Queer Identities in Morocco Tina Dransfeldt Christensen, 2021-01-14

This book explores queer identity in Morocco through the work of author and LGBT activist Abdellah Taâa, who defied the country's anti-homosexuality laws by publicly coming out in 2006. Engaging postcolonial queer and literary theory, Tina Dransfeldt Christensen examines Taâa's art and activism in the context of the wider debates around sexuality in Morocco. Placing key novels such as Salvation Army and Infidels in dialogue with Moroccan writers including Driss Chraïbi and Abdelkebir Khatibi, she shows how Taâa draws upon a long tradition of politically committed art in Morocco to subvert traditional notions of heteronormativity. By giving space to silenced or otherwise marginalised voices, she shows how his writings offer a powerful critique of discourses of class, authenticity, culture and nationality in Morocco and North Africa.

Moroccan Mirages

Will Davis Swearingen, 2014-07-14

Morocco's future is threatened politically and economically by a growing agricultural crisis. Will Swearingen locates the roots of this crisis in French dreams for the jewel of their colonial empire. He demonstrates that, with disastrous results, contemporary Moroccan leaders are fulfilling a colonial vision, implementing policies and plans drafted during the protectorate period. Return to Childhood Laylá Abú Zayd, 1998

Leila Abouzeid's novel Year of the Elephant has gone through six reprintings and has now translated her childhood memoir into English. Published in Rabat in 1993 to critical acclaim, the work brings to life the interlocking dramas of family ties and political conflict. Against a background of Morocco's struggle for independence from French colonial rule, Abouzeid charts the development of personal relationships between generations as well as between husbands and wives. Abouzeid's father is a central figure as a strong advocate of Moroccan nationalism; he was frequently imprisoned by the French and his family forced to flee the capital. Si Hmed was a public hero.

but the young daughter's memories of her famous father and of the family's plight because of his political activities are not so idyllic. The memoir utilizes multiple voices especially those of women in a manner reminiscent of the narrative strategies of the oral tradition in Moroccan culture. Return to Childhood may also be classified as an autobiography, a form only now gaining respect as a valid literary genre in the Middle East. Abouzeid's own introduction and Elizabeth Fernea's foreword discuss this new development in Arabic literature.
