Islamic Leadership in the European Lands of the Former Ottoman and Russian Empires Egdunas

Racius, Antonina Zhelyazkova, 2017-09-25 In Islamic Leadership in the European Lands of the Former Ottoman and Russian Empires the history and contemporary development of Islamic leadership in over a dozen of Eastern European countries is analysed. The studies are presented through a double prism: the institutional structures of the Muslim communities and the place of the muftiates in the current national constellations on one hand and the dimension of the spiritual guidance emanating from the muftiates on the other. The latter includes aspects such as the muftiates powers and role in supervision of mosques and other religious institutions, production, dissemination and control of religious knowledge and discussions on traditional and non traditional forms of Islam engaged in by the muftiates. This is the first comprehensive edited volume on the subject. Contributors are: Sr an Bari i Ayder Bulatov, Marko Hadjdinjak, Olsi Jazexhi, Memli Sh Krasniqi, Armend Mehmeti, Dino Mujad evi, Agata S Nalborczyk, Egd nas Ra ius, Aziz Nazmi, Shakir Vitalii, Shchepanskyi, Jakob Skovgaard, Petersen, Da a Slab anka, Aid Smaji, Irina Vainovski, Mihai Mykhaïlo, Yakubovych and Galina Yemelianova. The Caucasus & Globalization, 2006.

Moscow's Muslim Challenge Michael Rywkin, 1990. Rywkin, Russian area studies CCNY, who spend his youth as a World War II refugee in the city of Samarkand in Soviet Uzbekistan, has devoted his career to study of the Soviet Union. In this revised edition, updated to cover the first five years of perestroika, he combines a history of the area with a probing analysis of current trends in one of the USSR's most turbulent and least understood minority regions. Paper edition, unseen. 1295. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc, Portland, OR. The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books 1976 to 1982 British Library, 1983.

The Volga Tatars Azade-Ayse Rorlich, 2017-09-01. The Volga Tatars is the first Western language study to investigate the history of the Volga Tatars, the earliest non-Christian and non-Slavic people to be incorporated into the Russian state from the tenth through the twentieth centuries. The rare scholar to access sources in the Tatar language, Azade Ay e Rorlich examines the shaping and evolution of Tatar identity, tracing the people's origins and conquest by the Russians, tsarist attempts to obliterate Tatar culture and the growth of Tatar nationalism. At once a study of history, culture, religion and politics, the book presents a solid frame of reference for one of Russia's Islamic peoples both before and after the Russian Revolution and illustrates the relevance of the Tatar past to modern events and concerns.

Soviet Politics of Emancipation of Ethnic Minority Woman Yulia Gradskaia, 2018-09-04. This book provides a new perspective through a closer look on 'Other' i.e. ethnic minority women defined by the Soviet documents as 'natsionalka'. Applying decolonial theory and critical race and whiteness studies, the book analyzes archive documents, early Soviet films and mass publications in order to explore how the emancipation and culturalization of women of culturally backward nations was practiced and presented for the mass Soviet audience. Whilst the special focus of the book lies in the region between the Volga and the Urals and Muslim women of the Central Eurasia, the Soviet emancipation practices are presented in the broader context of gendered politics of modernization in the beginning of the 20th century The analysis of the Soviet documents of the 1920s 1930s not only subverts the Soviet story on generous help with emancipation of natsionalka through uncovering its imperial colonial aspects but also makes an important contribution to the studies of imperial domination and colonial politics This book is addressed to all interested in Russian and Eurasian studies and in decolonial approach to gender history The Russian Empire, Slaving and Liberation, 1480-1725 Christoph Witzenrath, 2022-11-21 The monograph realigns political culture and countermeasures against slave raids which increased during the breakup of the Golden Horde By physical defense of the open steppe border and by embracing the New Israel symbolism in which the exodus from slavery in Egypt prefigures the exodus of Russian captives from Tatar captivity Muscovites found a defensive model to expand empire Recent scholarly debates on slaving are innovatively applied to Russian and imperial history challenging entrenched perceptions of Muscovy The Heritage of Soviet Oriental Studies Michael Kemper, Stephan Conermann, 2011-02-01 This book examines the Russian Soviet intellectual tradition of Oriental and Islamic studies which comprised a rich body of knowledge especially on Central Asia and the Caucasus The Soviet Oriental tradition was deeply linked to politics probably even more than other European Orientalisms It breaks new ground by providing Western and post Soviet insider views especially on the features that set Soviet Oriental studies apart from what we know about its Western counterparts for example the involvement of scholars in state supported anti Islamic agitation the early and strong integration of Orientals into the scientific institutions the spread of Oriental scholarship over the Oriental republics of the USSR and its role in the Marxist reinterpretation of the histories of these areas The authors demonstrate the declared emancipating agenda of Soviet scholarship with its rhetoric of anti colonialism and anti imperialism made Oriental studies a formidable tool for Soviet foreign policy towards the Muslim World and just like in the West the Iranian Revolution and the mujahidin resistance to the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan necessitated a thorough redefinition of Soviet Islamic studies in the early 1980s Overall the book provides a comprehensive analysis of Soviet Oriental studies exploring different aspects of writing on Islam and Muslim history societies and literatures It also shows how the legacy of Soviet Oriental studies is still alive especially in terms of interpretative frameworks and methodology after 1991 Soviet views on Islam have contributed significantly to nation building in the various post Soviet and Russian Muslim republics The Oxford Handbook of European Islam Jocelyne Cesari, 2014-10-30 For centuries Muslim countries and Europe have engaged one another through theological dialogues diplomatic missions political rivalries and power struggles In the last thirty years due in large part to globalization and migration from Islamic countries to the West what was previously an engagement across national and cultural boundaries has increasingly become an internalized encounter within Europe itself Questions of the Hijab in schools freedom of expression in the wake of the Danish Cartoon crisis and the role of Shari'a have come to the forefront of contemporary European discourse The Oxford Handbook of European Islam is the first collection to present a comprehensive approach to the multiple and changing ways Islam has been studied across European countries Parts one to three address the state of knowledge of Islam and Muslims within a selection of European countries while presenting a critical view of the most up to date data specific to each country These chapters analyse the immigration cycles and policies related to the presence of Muslims tackling issues such as discrimination post colonial identity adaptation and assimilation The thematic chapters in parts four and five examine secularism radicalization Shari a Hijab and Islamophobia with the goal of synthesizing different national discussion into a more comparative theoretical framework The Handbook attempts to balance cutting edge assessment with the knowledge that the content itself will eventually be superseded by events Featuring eighteen newly commissioned essays by noted scholars in the field this volume will provide an excellent resource for students and scholars interested in European Studies immigration Islamic studies and the sociology of religion

The Muslim Question and Russian Imperial Governance Elena I. Campbell, 2015-01-26 A major contribution to the history of nationality religious identity and governance in late imperial Russia William G Rosenberg coauthor of Processing the Past From the time of the Crimean War through the fall of the Tsar the question of what to do about the Russian empire's large Muslim population was a highly contested issue among educated Russians both inside and outside the government As formulated in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the Muslim Question comprised a complex set of ideas and concerns that centered on the problems of reimagining and governing the tremendously diverse Russian empire in the face of the challenges presented by the modernizing world Basing her analysis on extensive research in archival and primary sources Elena I Campbell reconstructs the issues debates and personalities that shaped the development of Russian policies toward the empire's Muslims and the impact of the Muslim Question on the modernizing path that Russia would follow Readable original and endlessly interesting Campbell's book deserves the very highest praise Journal of Islamic Studies Campbell's book shows how profound official Islamophobia paradoxically led to the preservation of earlier confessional structures grudging non interference with the spiritual and social life of most Muslim communities a restraining hand on the actions if not the rhetoric of Orthodox missionaries and a certain uneasy toleration Slavonic and East European Review A major contribution to the understanding of Russia's Muslim Question past and present Recommended Choice
