British Wood-engraved Book Illustration, 1904-1940 Joanna Selborne,1998 Twentieth century British wood engraved book illustration up to the beginning of the Second World War was among the most versatile and inventive of the graphic arts

In a climate of typographical renaissance various wood engravers made a significant impact on the appearance of the printed page transforming good books into works of art and influencing modern standards of book production. This book reveals the methods by which these pioneering artists broke with nineteenth century illustrative practices. The author surveys the subject in relation to the cultural and historical background and within the context of mainstream developments in the visual arts placing emphasis on the working relationship of illustrators with both private presses and commercial publishers. Detailed study of unpublished material including art school records, publishers and print societies' archives and artists' correspondence throws new light on the work and practices of the more innovative wood engravers.
