Myocardial Laser Revascul

Th Krabatsch

Myocardial Laser Revascul:

Myocardial Laser Revascularization Charles Bridges, Keith Horvath, Ray Chu-Jeng Chiu, 2008-04-15 Finally there is a dependable guide to transmyocardial laser revascularization TMR In this groundbreaking volume clinicians who pioneered the use of this innovative treatment share their insights on the indications results mechanisms and limitations of the technique Under the careful editorial guidance of Drs Bridges Horvath and Chiu contributing authors explain the evolution science rationale and limitations for TMR how to select suitable candidates anesthetic considerations and the role of transesophageal echo TMR as a sole or combination therapy Whether you are already practicing TMR or contemplating its addition to your therapeutic armamentarium this concise reference will answer all your questions about this important new procedure

Transmyocardial Laser Revascularization Th Krabatsch, 1998 Myocardial Revascularization George S. Abela, 2002 The percutaneous method of transluminal myocardial revascularization has roused enthusiasm in the field of cardiology because it is minimally invasive and relatively inexpensive In his progressive new book George Abela a widely recognized pioneer in cardiology and lasers has brought together the expertise of international leaders on the subject in this premier reference Myocardial Revascularization Novel Percutaneous Approaches This resource provides interventional cardiologists technical personnel and nurses in cardiac catheterization labs with the most current scholarly and clinical information available including A historical overview of myocardial revascularization including the Vineberg procedure and the more recent TMR PMR procedures Biological responses and mechanisms of action in myocardial revascularization using mechanical laser ultrasound and cryoenergy Current technology for the percutaneous method of the procedure Descriptions of other novel approaches including percutaneous in situ coronary venous arterialization Discussion of results from preliminary and advanced TMR PMR in canine and human procedures Examination of various catheter navigation systems and potential adjunct gene therapies Myocyte transplantation to replenish the depleted myocardium Insights into the economics of these novel percutaneous techniques Direct Myocardial Revascularization: History, Methodology, Technology Peter Whittaker, George S. Abela, 2012-12-06 The last five years have witnessed an increasing interest in the subject of transmyocardial laser revascularization TMR as illustrated by the number of abstracts presented at the meetings of the American Heart Association and the American College of Cardiology Figure The ideas and concepts associated with this particular method of myocardial revascularization have changed dramatically over even this short period of time The original premise of de evolving mammalian hearts to recreate a reptilian like myocardial circulation by making multiple channels through the myocardium has been almost but perhaps not quite completely dismissed Now the most popular notion is that there is an angiogenic response to myocardial channel making It is this development of new blood vessels that is thought to be responsible for the apparent improvements in symptoms and blood flow Along the way the idea that a channel could stay open and allow blood to flow directly from the ventricular chamber has found little support Rather than directly explore all of these issues and merely duplicate previously published articles our aim was to take a novel approach that is to step back from these arguments and provide perspective from the vantage point of distance In the case of trans myocardial revascularization distance comes both in terms of history and in terms of methodology and knowledge from other fields of research Historically innovative methods of myocardial revascularization are by no means uncommon The first two chapters deal with this historical perspective Transmyocardial Laser Revascularization Th Krabatsch,Roland Hetzer,2000

Lasers for Ischemic Heart Disease Xavier M. Mueller,2012-12-06 With the growing age of the population the proportion of elderly patients with diffuse coronary artery disease and severe comorbidities is increasing The characteristics of these patients render them unsuitable for currently recognized revascularization procedures CABG PTCA Therefore there is an urgent need for new treatment modalities which could alleviate their symptoms and increase blood flow to the ischemic myocardium while being less invasive for their fragile condition The aim of this book is to provide an anatomical and physiological background as well as a complete review of the alternative methods of revascularization which are under development namely transmyocardial laser revascularization therapeutic angiogenesis and neurostimulation

Percutaneous Myocardial Laser Revascularization and Transmyocardial Laser Revascularization Antonio Sarria-Santamera,Lawrence Liao,Ayn Huntington,David B. Matchar,2004 The Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality AHRQ on behalf of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services CMS has requested a technology assessment on transmyocardial laser revascularization TMR and percutaneous myocardial laser revascularization PMR in preparation for a Medicare Coverage Advisory Committee meeting on this topic The specific aims of this technology assessment are as follows 1 Provide a summary and description of the technology 2 Review the peer reviewed clinical literature on the outcomes associated with the use of 1 1 TMR as a stand alone procedure 1 2 TMR used together with coronary artery bypass grafting CABG 1 3 PMR 3 Review of available information on clinical trials underway as a horizon scan for this technology In addition studies on the mechanism of action and the specific lasers used for each of the procedures were reviewed and a description of those findings is included in this report Myasthenia gravis ,1999 TMLR Management of Coronary Artery Diseases Michael Klein,H.D. Schulte,E. Gams,2012-12-06 TMLR is becoming a very popular indirect method of revascularization which will probably become yet another accepted technique for treating coronary artery disease The articles included in this publication have all been written by experts and not only describe the technique itself but also give the first comprehensive survey on the pathological physiological laser technological and surgical basis necessary to understand this approach Physicians who treat patients with coronary artery disease will find this volume most useful in their work Biomedical Photonics and Optoelectronic Imaging Qingming Luo,China Optics & Optoelectronic Manufacturers Association,Zhongguo wu li xue hui,Society of Photo-optical Instrumentation Engineers,2000 Cardiac Surgery in the Adult, Third Edition Lawrence H.
