Hatina, 2008-08-18 The second title in a proposed five volume work volume two following on from the volume on Mark's Gospel concentrates on Matthew's Gospel Contributors consider the function of embedded scripture texts in the context of the Gospels written and read heard in their early Christian settings The project is wide ranging with essays on the function of scripture in the compositional history of the gospels and the collection is broad in scope as a result of current interest in the integration of methods especially historical and narrative ones Advancements over the last 20 years in the study of genre and narrative criticism have left a void in the study of the function of embedded biblical texts in the Gospels This collection of essays will move the study of scripture within scripture forwards The Legendary and Myth-making Process in Histories of the American Revolution

Ethnicity, Propaganda, Myth-making Tibor Frank, 1999 The Master-Myth of Modern Society Marian G. Kinget, 2000-01-10 The Master Myth of Modern Society extends the late Dr Kinget's life work as professor, psychotherapist and author. Defining myth as a perennial psycho-social phenomenon that expresses an internal compulsion towards understanding the unknown, Kinget, one of the original humanistic psychologists, argues that the rhetoric, ideology and mystique surrounding modern science constitutes the master myth of our times. She evaluates science as myth in terms of both its beneficial effects and its debilitating qualities. Along these lines, Kinget views the notion of objectivity as an essential element of this myth, noting that the questions we ask and the answers we seek are constantly being reconstructed according to spiritual need. With a bibliography of time-honored authors, this short work can serve as a springboard for further exploration of human beings' traditional and modern mentality as expressed in myths, society, religion, and psychological queries. Relevant for understanding contemporary society, this book will be of value to students of psychology, sociology, anthropology, and integrated social sciences.
