The State and Social Power in Global Environmental Politics Ronnie D. Lipschutz, Ken Conca, 1993 The State and Social Power in Global Environmental Politics examines how the difficult issues of social political and economic relations will complicate the efforts initiated at the June 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro The contributors argue that national governments must begin to acknowledge the role of new actors in their environmental policies The authors of these original essays including Jesse C Ribot James N Rosenau Barbara Jancar and Ann Hawkins envision a world in which governments driven by various pressures find themselves increasingly bound to common efforts and joint solutions

Essays on the Political Economy of Rural Africa Robert H. Bates, 1987-04-20 The essays in this volume represent a dialogue between theory and data The theory is drawn from a branch of contemporary political economy which can also be labeled the collective choice school The data are drawn from Africa The book extends the methods of reasoning developed in collective choice from their original base the advanced industrial democracies to new territory the literature on rural Africa Such as extension challenges the power of this form of political economy It also enriches it for the central questions which motivate the contemporary study of political economy are often addressed with unique clarity in the scholarship on rural Africa      Agricultural Policies and Political Competition in Korea Kira N. Greene,1997      Political Science in Theory and Practice: The Politics Model Kris E Lane,2020-11-25 This text demonstrates that there is a politics model that unifies the discipline and structures its relationship to the other social sciences It shows how this model underlies important works of applied research in all the main political science subfields      The Political Foundations of Development Policies Oskar Kurer,1997 This book argues that one major factor was the nature of the political structure of these countries political clientelism      Polycentric Games and Institutions Michael Dean McGinnis,2000 Uses game theory to model institutions      International Studies Scott Straus,Barry Driscoll,2018-09-10 The challenge of teaching international studies is to help students think coherently about the multiple causes and effects of global problems In International Studies Global Forces Interactions and Tensions award winning scholars Scott Straus and Barry Driscoll give students a clear framework that pinpoints how key factors forces interactions and tensions contribute to world events with both global and local consequences The authors first show students how to look for common patterns in global issues by introducing four world shaping forces global markets shifting centers of power information and communications technologies and global governance They systematically trace how these forces prompt interactions among world actors and thus give rise to a set of tensions that spur key challenges The framework enables students to ask and answer for themselves Who is interacting Where did such interactions develop What policies or institutions govern them Why are they getting certain global and local reactions Students then apply the framework to the global problems that matter most to them human rights abuses economic inequality terrorism forced migration pandemics and global health responses climate change food security and more International Studies raises the bar for the Introduction to IS course moving beyond interdisciplinary and into the realm of critical analysis to increase student relevancy and motivation Give your students the SAGE edge SAGE edge offers a robust online environment featuring an impressive array of free tools and resources for review study and further exploration keeping both instructors and students on the cutting edge of teaching and learning Learn more at edge.sagepub.com/straus1e Bundle and Save Your students only pay 5 for The CQ Press Career Guide for Global Politics Students when you bundle it with the print version of International Studies Use Bundle ISBN 978 1 5443 5204 6      Developing Democracies Michael Böss,Joergen Møller,Svend-Erik Skaaning,2013-10-31 The Middle East captured front pages worldwide for the alleged Arab Spring in 2011 Large segments of the populations of Tunisia Libya Egypt and Syria took to the streets to voice their protest against autocratic regimes and to demand democracy Violent uprisings followed but the prospects of liberal democracy are still uncertain and distant No wonder Democratization took a couple of centuries in the West And even today well established Western democracies are under pressure from globalization and regionalization and many claim representative democracy is in need of renewal This collection of essays focuses on a number of theoretical issues associated with democracy and democratization Divided into three parts the first part analyzes how democracy may be understood explained and measured The second part deals with issues of democracy international stability and development in fragile and developmental states and regions The third part of the book looks at representative democracy in old democracies and its potential for development

Governance and Crisis in the State in Africa John Emeka Akude,2009 Governance and Crisis of the State in Africa explores the problems and challenges of disruptive conflicts and conflict management in West Africa Based on a robust analysis of a large stock of theoretical and empirical studies on the nature of the state in Africa and the incidents of state failure fragmentation and collapse the author argues that a major explanation of state weakness in Africa is the lack of the imperatives of good governance itself rooted in the trajectory of the emergence of these states Using the recent internal wars and ongoing conflicts in some West African states such as Liberia Sierra Leone Guinea Guinea Bissau and Cote d Ivoire as case studies the author explains how the use of inappropriate methods of conflict management exacerbates these conflicts and the crisis of the nation state in Africa

John Emeka Akude holds a PhD in political science from the University of Cologne Germany where he teaches African Politics Politics of Development and International Political Economy His research interests include political economy the state and economic development conflict studies state collapse and war economies as well as the transformation of political order His publications include Krisen und Krisenmanagement in Afrika Zwischen Wunschenken und Ohnmacht Der Anspruch der Afrikanischen Union auf Konfliktmanagement in Afrika Bad Governance and State Collapse in Africa as well as Weak States and Security Threats in West Africa He is a member of the Working Group on the Transformation of Political Order at the Chair of International Relations University of Cologne Germany
