Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch A. Thomas Cole, 2024-02-27 The Pitchfork Ranch is more than another dusty homestead tucked away in a corner of the Southwest It is a place with a story to tell about the most pressing crisis to confront humankind It is a place where one couple is working every day to right decades of wrongs It is a place of inspiration and promise It is an invitation to join the struggle for a better planet Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch tells the story of a decades long habitat restoration project in southwestern New Mexico A Thomas Cole explains what inspired him and his wife Lucinda to turn their retirement into years dedicated to hard work and renewal The book shares the past and present history of a very special ranch south of Silver City which is home to a rare type of regional wetland a fragile desert grassland ecosystem archaeological sites and a critical wildlife corridor in a drought stricken landscape Today the 11 300 acres that make up the Pitchfork Ranch provide an important setting for carbon sequestration wildlife habitats and space for the reintroduction of endangered or threatened species Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch weaves together stories of mine strikers cattle ranching and the climate crisis into an important and inspiring call to action For anyone who has wondered how they can help the Pitchfork Ranch provides an inspiring way forward Writing in Dust Jenny Kerber,2011-03-17 Writing in Dust is the first sustained study of prairie Canadian literature from an ecocritical perspective Drawing on recent scholarship in environmental theory and criticism Jenny Kerber considers the ways in which prairie writers have negotiated processes of ecological and cultural change in the region from the early twentieth century to the present The book begins by proposing that current environmental problems in the prairie region can be understood by examining the longstanding tendency to describe its diverse terrain in dualistic terms either as an idyllic natural space or as an irredeemable wasteland It inquires into the sources of stories that naturalize ecological prosperity and hardship and investigates how such narratives have been deployed from the period of colonial settlement to the present It then considers the ways in which works by both canonical and more recent writers ranging from Robert Stead W O Mitchell and Margaret Laurence to Tim Lilburn Louise Halfe and Thomas King consistently challenge these dualistic landscape myths proposing alternatives for the development of more ecologically just and sustainable relationships among people and between humans and their physical environments Writing in Dust asserts that reading environmentally can help us to better understand a host of issues facing prairie inhabitants today including the environmental impacts of industrial agriculture resource extraction climate change shifting urban rural demographics the significance of Indigenous understandings of human nature relationships and the complex often contradictory meanings of eco cultural metaphors of alien invasiveness hybridity and wildness Literature of Place Melanie Louise Simo,2005 In Literature of Place Melanie Simo looks beyond crowded malls and boarded up storefronts on Main Street to our collective memory finding answers to these questions in stories novels memoirs poetry essays diaries travel writing and nature writing that range in origin from New England and the Southern Highlands to Hawaii and in subject from little gardens to lost or rehhabited places in cities mill towns deserts and woodlands In her consideration of selected American works from 1890 to 1970 years that mark the closing of the Western frontier and later openings in space exploration environmental protection genetic engineering and cyberspace Simo uncovers a literature of place and the often surprising relationship of place to our daily lives BOOK JACKET Wallace Stegner's Salt Lake City Robert C. Wallace Stegner recipient of the Pulitzer Prize in 1972 was a great writer. As an author historian teacher and environmentalist he influenced countless prominent individuals during his long life. Showcasing some of those relationships these letters written between 1933 and 1993 cover a broad range of topics including literature history conservation and Stanford. Here are letters to colleagues like Ansel Adams friends and family as well as many students who went on to become well respected authors among them Wendell Berry John Daniel Barry Lopez William Kittredge and Robert Stone. In 1946 he founded the prestigious Stegner Fellowship Program. In 1961 his memos to then Secretary of the Interior Steward Udall set the tone and agenda for what would become the modern environmental movement. Here in their entirety are the letters that track it all. For a man who had no interest in writing an autobiography they offer an inside look at his unedited thoughts and opinions and to a factual narrative untransformed by the literary imagination to life lived before being lived. Writes his son Page Stegner in his introduction. Here is history as told through correspondence with people who helped shape literature politics and environmentalism in the twentieth century. Moon Handbooks Southern California Kim Weir, 2005-11-29. This set treats the whole of American literature from the European discovery of America to the present with entries in alphabetical order. Each of the 350 substantive essays is a major interpretive contribution. Well known critics and scholars provide clear and vividly written essays that reflect the latest scholarship on a given topic as well as original thinking on the part of the critic The Encyclopedia is available in print and as an e reference text from Oxford's Digital Reference Shelf At the core of the encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets playwrights essayists and novelists The most prominent figures such as Whitman Melville Faulkner Frost Morrison and so forth are treated at considerable length 10 000 words by top flight critics Less well known figures are discussed in essays ranging from 2 000 to 5 000 words Each essay examines the life of the author in the context of his or her times looking in detail at key works and describing the arc of the writer's career These essays include an assessment of the writer's current reputation with a bibliography of major works by the writer as well as a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer under discussion A second key element of the project is the critical assessments of major American masterworks such as Moby Dick Song of Myself Walden The Great Gatsby The Waste Land Their Eyes Were Watching God Death of a Salesman or Beloved Each of these essays offers a close reading of the given work placing that work in its historical context and offering a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach These fifty essays ranging from 2 000 to 5 000 words are simply and clearly enough written that an intelligent high school student should easily understand them but sophisticated enough that a college student or general reader in a public library will find the essays both informative and stimulating The final major element of this encyclopedia consists of fifty odd essays on literary movements periods or themes pulling together a broad range of information and making interesting connections These essays treat many of the same authors already discussed but in a different context they also gather into the fold authors who do not have an entire essay on their work so that Zane Grey for example is discussed in an essay on Western literature but does not have an essay to himself In this way the project is truly encyclopedic in the conventional sense These essays aim for comprehensiveness without losing anything of the narrative force that makes them good reading in their own right In a very real fashion the literature of the American people reflects their deepest desires aspirations fears and fantasies The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers a wide range of information that illuminates the field itself and clarifies many of its particulars
