Lethal Legacy James Rodger Miller, 2004

Canadians greeted the disruptions in Native newcomer relations that occasionally erupted during the 1990s with incomprehension Politicians journalists and ordinary citizens understood neither how nor why the crisis of the moment had arisen much less how its deep historical roots made it resistant to solutions J R Miller believes that it takes a historical understanding of public policy affecting Canadian Natives to truly comprehend the issues and their ramifications An expert on indigenous newcomer relations Miller uses his extensive research from conventional and Native sources to explore and explain the controversial issues facing Canadian Natives today In five sections this book covers topics such as Native identity self government treaties attitudes to land and ownership and assimilation Miller acknowledges the fact that there are no easy solutions but argues that greater understanding is the foundation for building successful relations between Natives and non Natives in Canada

Canadian Political Culture(s) in Transition Hamish Telford,Harvey Lazar,2002 Canada The State of the Federation 2000 01 probes beneath the surface to determine if the obvious changes the fractious federal party system the common sense revolution in government budgeting the re birth of the sovereignty movement in Quebec and the re assertion of Aboriginal claims are symptomatic of a shift in Canadian political culture Arguably political changes in Canada have been greater in the 1990s than in any other decade since Confederation but do these changes signify a shift in Canadian political culture Can we even speak of a Canadian political culture What are the consequences of these changes for the federation Are Canadians more or less united Are federal provincial relations better or worse What does the future hold The authors attempt to answer these questions through analyses of the federal party system politics in the provinces and regions and political dynamics in a number of issue areas including Aboriginal politics the Charter multiculturalism the rural urban cleavage and social policy
