Belonging, Identity, Time and Young People's Engagement in the Middle Years of School Seth Brown, Peter Kelly, Scott K. Phillips, 2020-09-19 This book explores the complex ways in which belonging identity and time are entangled in shaping young people engagement with the middle years of school The authors argue that these entanglements need to be understood in ways that move beyond a focus on why individual young people engage with the middle years Instead there should be a focus on the socio ecologies of particular places and the ways in which these ecologies shape the possibilities of young people engaging productively in the middle years Drawing on extensive qualitative data from an outer urban metropolitan context this book will appeal to scholars of sociology education and policy studies

Jane and Dorothy Marian Veevers, 2018-04-03 Jane Austen and Dorothy Wordsworth were born just four years apart in a world torn between heady revolutionary ideas and fierce conservatism but their lives have never been examined together before They both lived in Georgian England navigated strict social conventions and new ideals and they were both influenced by Dorothy's brother the Romantic poet William Wordsworth and his coterie They were both supremely talented writers yet often lacked the necessary peace of mind in their search for self expression Neither ever married Jane and Dorothy uses each life to illuminate the other For both women financial security was paramount and whereas Jane Austen hoped to achieve this through her writing rather than being dependent on her family Dorothy made the opposite choice and put her creative powers to the use of her brilliant brother with whom she lived all her adult life In this probing book Marian Veevers discovers a crucial missing piece to the puzzle of Dorothy and William's relationship and addresses enduring myths
