Migrants and Militants Oskar Verkaaik, 2004 Being part of a violent community in revolt can be addictive it can be fun This book offers a fascinating inside look at present day political violence in Pakistan through a historical ethnography of the Muhajir Qaumi Movement MQM one of the most remarkable and successful religious nationalist movements in postcolonial South Asia The MQM has mobilized much of the migrant Muhajir population in Karachi and other urban centers in southern Pakistan and has fomented large scale ethnic religious violence Oskar Verkaaik argues that urban youth see it as an irresistible opportunity for fun Drawing on both anthropological fieldwork including participatory observation among political militants and historical analyses of state formation nation building and the ethnicization of Islam since 1947 he provides an absorbing and important contribution to theoretical debates about political religious and nationalist violence Migrants and Militants brings together two perspectives on political violence Recent studies on ethnic cleansing genocide terrorism and religious violence have emphasized processes of identification and purification Verkaaik combines these insights with a focus on urban youth culture in which masculinity physicality and the performance of violence are key values He shows that only through fun and absurdity can a nascent movement transgress the dominant discourse to come of its own Using these observations he considers violence as a ludic practice violence as martyrdom and sacrifice and violence as terrorism and resistance

The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute, 2004 Articles on all aspects of anthropology Muslim Lives in Eastern Europe Kristen Rogheh Ghodsee, 2010 Muslim Lives in Eastern Europe examines how gender identities were reconfigured in a Bulgarian Muslim community following the demise of Communism and an influx of international aid from the Islamic world Kristen Ghodsee conducted extensive ethnographic research among a small population of Pomaks Slavic Muslims living in the remote mountains of southern Bulgaria After Communism fell in 1989 Muslim minorities in Bulgaria sought to rediscover their faith after decades of state imposed atheism But instead of returning to their traditionally heterodox roots isolated groups of Pomaks embraced a distinctly foreign type of Islam which swept into their communities on the back of Saudi financed international aid to Balkan Muslims and which these Pomaks believe to be a more correct interpretation of their religion Ghodsee explores how gender relations among the Pomaks had to be renegotiated after the collapse of both Communism and the region's state subsidized lead and zinc mines She shows how mosques have replaced the mines as the primary site for jobless and underemployed men to express their masculinity and how Muslim women have encouraged this as a way to combat alcoholism and domestic violence Ghodsee demonstrates how women's embrace of this new form of Islam has led them to adopt more conservative family roles and how the Pomaks new religion remains deeply influenced by Bulgaria's Marxist Leninist legacy with its calls for morality social justice and human solidarity An Enchanted Modern Lara Deeb, 2006 Based on two years of ethnographic research in Beirut this book demonstrates that Islam and modernity are not merely compatible but actually go hand in hand This portrayal of an Islamic community articulates how an alternative modernity may be constructed by Shi I Muslims who consider themselves simultaneously deeply modern cosmopolitan and pious In this depiction of a Shi I Muslim community in Beirut Deeb examines the ways that individual and collective expressions and understandings of piety have been debated contested and reformulated Women take center stage in this process a result of their visibility both within the community and in relation to Western ideas that link the status of
