Migrants No More Settlement And Survival In Mambwe Villages Zambia:

Migrants No More Johan Pottier, 2018-09-03 Originally published in 1988 this book documents genealogical developments which together with changes in agricultural production religious ethic politics gender relations patterns of solidarity and trade were local adjustments to the economic crisis of the 1970s and 80s in Zambia The book explores the dynamics of a peripheral traditional economy examining the extent to which village structures and value systems have changed

Expectations of Modernity James Ferguson, 1999-10 Zambia's economic boom in the 1960s and 1970s was fueled by the export of copper and other primary materials Since the 1970s the urban economy has decreased This volume explores the social and cultural responses to this prolonged period of sharp economic decline

The Objects of Life in Central Africa, 2013-09-15 In The Objects of Life in Central Africa the history of consumption and social change from 1840 until 1980 is explored By taking consumption as a vantage point the contributions deviate from and add to previous works which have mainly analysed issues of production from an economic and political perspective The chapters are broad ranging in temporal and geographical focus including contributions on Congo Zambia Zimbabwe and Angola Topics range from the social history of firearms to the perception of the railway and include contributions on sewing machines traders and advertising By looking at the socio economic political and cultural meaning and impact of goods the history of Central Africa is reassessed

Pioneers of the Field Andrew Bank, 2016-08-11 Focusing on the crucial contributions of women researchers Andrew Bank demonstrates that the modern school of social anthropology in South Africa was uniquely female dominated The book traces the personal and intellectual histories of six remarkable women through the use of a rich cocktail of archival sources including family photographs private and professional correspondence field notes and field diaries published and other public writings and even love letters The book also sheds new light on the close connections between their personal lives their academic work and their anti segregationist and anti apartheid politics It will be welcomed by anthropologists historians and students in African studies interested in the development of social anthropology in twentieth century Africa as well as by students and researchers in the field of gender studies

Agricultural Technologies and Tropical Deforestation Arild Angelsen, David Kaimowitz, 2001-04-20 This book has been developed from a workshop on Technological change in agriculture and tropical deforestation organised by the Center for International Forestry Research and held in Costa Rica in March 1999 It explores how intensification of agriculture affects tropical deforestation using case studies from different geographical regions using different agricultural products and technologies and in differing demographic situations and market conditions Guidance is also given on future agricultural research and extension efforts

Elders, Migrants and Wives Margot L. Lovett, 1996

African Urban Economies D. Bryceson, D. Potts, 2005-12-16 Are Africa's most populous and economically dominant cities a force to reckon with in the twenty first century This book analyzes the economies of East and Southern Africa's apex cities probing how they have altered structurally over time and their current sources of economic vitality and vulnerability at local national and international levels Case study chapters focusing on Johannesburg Chitungwiza Gaborone Maputo Dar es Salaam Mombasa Nairobi Kampala and Mogadishu shed new light on contemporary African urban prospects and problems     Food Between the Country and the City Nuno Domingos, José Manuel Sobral, Harry G. West, 2014-03-27 At a time when the relationship between the country and the city is in flux worldwide the value and meanings of food associated with both places continue to be debated Building upon the foundation of Raymond Williams classic work The Country and the City this volume examines how conceptions of the country and the city invoked in relation to food not only reflect their changing relationship but have also been used to alter the very dynamics through which countryside and cities and the food grown and eaten within them are produced and sustained Leading scholars in the study of food offer ethnographic studies of peasant homesteads family farms community gardens state food industries transnational supermarkets planning offices tourist boards and government ministries in locales across the globe This fascinating collection provides vital new insight into the contested dynamics of food and will be key reading for upper level students and scholars of food studies anthropology history and geography     The International Journal of African Historical Studies ,1989     African Economic History ,1991     Sexual Behaviour in Sub-Saharan Africa Hilary Standing, M. N. Kisekka, 1989     U.S. Imprints on Sub-Saharan Africa ,1991     Family, Population and Development in Africa Aderanti Adepoju, 1997 This book investigates the challenges facing the African family and their multiple effects from an extremely broad perspective The contributors explore the nature of available data on which current policies are premised marriage patterns the role of the family in agriculture the changing roles and status of women the transformations generated by mass migration the strains and tensions wrought by structural adjustment programmes and the functioning of family law Throughout the book makes clear the importance of the family to the development process The contributors call on development strategists to see the family as a dynamic source of change as much as the recipient of it as such this book is essential reading for students academics and activists in development studies     Africa ,1999 Includes Proceedings of the Executive council and List of members also section Review of books     The Women and International Development Annual ,1991     Rainforest Relations Melissa Leach, 1994 With environmental change and conservation in West Africa s tropical rainforests becoming topics of increasing political and academic interest this book brings a fresh set of perspectives to the debate those of the forest dwellers themselves Based on her detailed field research in the Mende communities around Gola North Forest reserve and surveying the recent debates and literature concerning forest conservations and current analytical approaches to gender and the environment Melissa Leach examines the importance of rainforest resources to the local economy and social relations and shows that neither an understanding of forest use and change nor adequate conservation policies can be achieved without a concern for gender     From Food Security to Nutrition Security in Botswana ,1998     Joint Acquisitions List of Africana ,1989     The Publishers Weekly ,1988     Negotiating Local Knowledge Alan
