

An Open Letter to Congress

Dear Congressional Members

When a handful of big tech companies become gatekeepers, it threatens everything that makes the Internet so great. Consumers want an open web, where they are empowered to engage and choose from a diverse marketplace of products, services, and platforms. But without this new bipartisan bill, the same five companies will continue to manipulate our digital world.

That's why we are calling for the immediate passage of the American Innovation and Choice Online Act (AICOA).

Open Letter To Salvador:

Contesting Trade in Central America Rose J. Spalding, 2014-04-15 In 2004 the United States five Central American countries and the Dominican Republic signed the Central American Free Trade Agreement CAFTA signaling the region's commitment to a neoliberal economic model For many however neoliberalism had lost its luster as the new century dawned and resistance movements began to gather force Contesting Trade in Central America is the first book length study of the debate over CAFTA tracing the agreement's drafting its passage and its aftermath across Central America Rose J Spalding draws on nearly two hundred interviews with representatives from government business civil society and social movements to analyze the relationship between the advance of free market reform in Central America and the parallel rise of resistance movements She views this dynamic through the lens of Karl Polanyi's double movement theory which posits that significant shifts toward market economics will trigger oppositional self protective social countermovements Examining the negotiations political dynamics and agents involved in the passage of CAFTA in Costa Rica El Salvador and Nicaragua Spalding argues that CAFTA served as a high profile symbol against which Central American oppositions could rally Ultimately she writes post neoliberal reform involves not just the design of appropriate policy mixes and sequences but also the hard work of building sustainable and inclusive political coalitions ones that prioritize the quality of social bonds over raw economic freedom

The Water Defenders Robin Broad, John Cavanagh, 2021-03-23 Winner of the 2021 Duke University Juan Mendez Award Named one of The Progressive's Favorite Books of 2021 and one of the Best of Books 2021 by Foreign Affairs The David and Goliath story of ordinary people in El Salvador who rallied together with international allies to prevent a global mining corporation from poisoning the country's main water source At a time when countless communities are resisting powerful corporations from Flint Michigan to the Standing Rock Reservation to Didipio in the Philippines to the Gualcarque River in Honduras The Water Defenders tells the inspirational story of a community that took on an international mining corporation at seemingly insurmountable odds and won not one but two historic victories In the early 2000s many people in El Salvador were at first excited by the prospect of jobs progress and prosperity that the Pacific Rim mining company promised However farmer Vidalina Morales brothers Marcelo and Miguel Rivera and others soon discovered that the river system supplying water to the majority of Salvadorans was in danger of catastrophic contamination With a group of unlikely allies local and global they committed to stop the corporation and the destruction of their home Based on over a decade of research and their own role as international allies of the community groups in El Salvador Robin Broad and John Cavanagh unspool this untold story a tale replete with corporate greed a transnational lawsuit at a secretive World Bank tribunal in Washington violent threats murders and surprisingly victory The husband and wife duo immerses the reader in the lives of the Salvadoran villagers the journeys of the local activists who sought the truth about the effects of gold mining on the environment and the behind the scenes maneuverings of the corporate mining executives and their lawyers The Water
